Knight Says Nixon Friend Offered Deal

Ex-Vice President Spokesman Says It's Preposterous

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight says a wealthy Republican friend of Richard M. Nixon's offered him "any job in the state of California" — if he withdrew from the 1962 gubernatorial race.

Knight said yesterday the unidentified emissary told him he could become California's "chief justice or anything else you want, if you won't run against Dick."

Nixon denied a virtually identical charge — by State Democratic Chairman William A. Munnell — at his Wednesday night news conference, when Nixon announced his candidacy for governor. The former vice president was unavailable last night for comment on Knight's accusation, but Robert Finch, campaign manager in Nixon's unsuccessful 1960 bid for the presidency, said of the report:

"That's totally preposterous. There's never been any discussion of any such thing."

TO NAME NAMES

Then Knight reaffirmed his accusation, claiming he had two witnesses to the alleged conversation with the go-between. He added: "At the proper time, if this story is denied again, I'll make their names public."

Knight said the alleged emissary is "a high ranking Republican financial leader of Los Angeles — not a party official —and one of Nixon's closest friends. He's been a supporter of mine in the past."

Knight gave no indication if —or when—he would disclose the man's identity.

He told this story:

"On Aug. 1, a man called me to set up a meeting with Nixon.

"NO PUBLICITY"

"On Aug. 7 I did meet with Nixon at which time he referred to the man who had arranged the meeting and said, 'I will communicate with you always in this way.' Nixon said.

"On Sept. 7 this same man called me from Los Angeles while I was at the El Dorado Hotel in Sacramento.

"He said, 'Dick's going to run.' I had two witnesses in the room and I had them bend an ear to the phone so they could hear the conversation.

"I said, 'All right.' The man said, 'He has asked if you will meet with him and Bob Finch. . . .

"He said, 'Dick is willing to offer you chief justice of the state supreme court or anything else you want if you won't run against Dick.' I said I was going to run."

Knight said he has kept telephone records and can prove such a call was made to him.

Independence Declared In Syria, Nasser Bows

Egyptian Leader Withdraws Troops

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria reasserted its independence today after less than four years as a region of the United Arab Republic and set up a new civilian government supported by rebel army officers.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the UAR bowed to the revolutionary command which led the predawn uprising yesterday.

He announced that he had recalled troops, planes and warships sent to crush the revolt, and indicated he would leave to the Syrians the task of working out their future.

"The regime of tyranny has gone forever," said Damascus broadcasts proclaiming independence from Cairo, accusing Nasser of turning Syria into a prison and disputing his claim to Arab leadership.

Speaking to a crowd of 100,000 in Cairo, Nasser said the entire Egyptian army, air force and two regiments were sent to Syria but were recalled to avoid bloodshed when the rebels took over Latakia, Syria's chief port.

A party of 120 parachutists, dropped before getting the orders to return, were told to surrender, Nasser said. The Syrians already had reported the parachutists wiped out. One broadcast said 200 paratroopers were wiped out and another said 120 commandos were captured, but both apparently referred to the same action.

Nasser angrily denounced the rebels as imperialist reactionaries and traitors and said he was sure the Syrian people would eventually "preserve their free principles in the face of capitalist dictatorship."

"We lost some battles," he said, but added his aims of Arab unity are long-range.

PHONERS MUST FIDGET WITH THOSE DIGITS

It's going to be harder to remember your telephone number if you get a new one Monday or later.

Starting Monday, all new telephone customers in Marin, Peninsula and East Bay communities will receive all-numeral phone numbers—seven numerals instead of the familiar two letters and five numerals.

The change will apply in the Novato area served by Western California Telephone Co. as well as in areas served by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The move is part of a gradual shift to all-numeral phone numbers throughout the nation.

Experience of motor vehical officials in the various states has resulted in an opposite move to replace part of the auto license numerals with letters for easier remembering.

Youthful Burglary Suspects Nabbed

Three youths, suspected of cleaning out a Muir Beach home of most of the household appliances last evening, were caught today because they returned to Marin in a stolen car to poach on Point Reyes deer.

Lodged in Marin County Jail were Richard Garret Payne, 20, and Michael Edward Metro, 18, of San Francisco, and Douglas Stuart Bias, 18, of Daly City.

All three were booked about 3:30 a.m. on suspicion of poaching, car theft, and concealing stolen property. Payne and Metro are also suspected of burglary.

Victims of the burglary were Jack and Judy Martin of Sunset Way, Muir Beach.

Martin, a truck driver, said he and his wife arrived home about 9 o'clock last night and found their home ransacked. Television, radio, couch, jewelry, high-fidelity set, end table, lamps, kitchen utensils, cameras, telescope, a .22 caliber rifle, clothes, and electrical appliances were gone. Martin estimated they were worth more than $2,000.

About 2 a.m. today, Sheriff's Deputies Robert Bertrand and Kenneth Irving stopped a 1961 sedan, stolen in San Francisco, at Point Reyes Station. In the car the three youths—and a freshly killed fawn.

The two officers and Sgt. Edward Levine, working all night, recovered the burglary loot from the homes of the three.

The officers said the three admitted the burglary and said they used the .22 caliber rifle they had just stolen to shoot a fawn in Point Reyes.

The three will be prosecuted in Marin. Both Alameda and San Francisco want the trio on suspicion of car thefts.

ROBERT E. ROGERS
Unanimous choice

College Unit Appoints Sausalitan

Robert E. Rogers of Sausalito was appointed last night to succeed Rupert E. Kempf, also of Sausalito, on the Marin Junior College District board.

Rogers, 46, is chairman of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, and a former Sausalito School District trustee. He is an engineer with Fiberaised Bar and Line Co. of Sausalito.

He will fill out a term which expires June 30, 1963. Kempf's resignation, tendered because he and his wife plan a world tour, becomes effective Sunday.

The college trustees went into a 40-minute closed session last night to discuss the appointment (an action of doubtful legality). When they resumed their public meeting, Kempf proposed Rogers as his successor and the board unanimously voted for the appointment.

Rogers, a resident of Marin for 21 years and formerly a San Franciscan, served on the Sausalito School District board from 1950 to 1958. He and his wife and their two sons reside at 109 Central Avenue. One son attends Tamalpais High School; the other is in the eighth grade at Sausalito's Richardson Bay School.

Rogers said today he plans to continue on the County Committee on School District Organization "at least for awhile."

Russ Protests U.S. Patrols

BERLIN (UPI) — Russia has protested against U.S. Army patrols on the 110-mile autobahn superhighway that links West Berlin with West Germany, a U.S. spokesman said today.

The patrols are being continued despite the protest, the spokesman said.

The Soviet protest was made to American headquarters here five days ago, one day after the patrols were resumed after a 10-year lapse. The military police patrols were sent out on the highway following the detention of two American GI's by East German Communist police.

TWO GAMES SET TONIGHT IN COUNTY

Marin football fans can choose between two high school games within the county tonight—St. Mary's vs. San Rafael at San Rafael, and Riordan vs. Tamalpais at Kentfield. Both games will start at 8 o'clock.

Marin teams playing away from home this evening are College of Marin vs. the Chico State College Jayvees at Chico, and San Rafael Military Academy at St. Helena.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 Novato will host Sonoma. Tomorrow night at 8 Sir Francis Drake will take on Oakland High at Kentfield. Redwood travels to Sequoia to meet Carlmont, Marin Catholic to Salinas to play Palma and Tomales to Petaluma to battle St. Vincent's in other games involving Marin prep teams tomorrow night.

Was Whale Of A Wail

The scream of a siren disturbed residents along the Miracle Mile for about 20 minutes this morning, but there was no emergency.

Some wires got crossed in Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s central office in San Rafael, setting off the banshee wail of a civil defense siren on Spring Grove Avenue, said Douglas Horton, phone company commercial manager.

The effect was heightened by the scream of fire sirens as San Anselmo and Marin County fire departments responded to a call to a fire in an oil truck owned by Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera on San Anselmo's San Francisco Boulevard about the same time. That caused $1,000 damage.

Two More Cubans Are Executed

HAVANA (UPI) — Two more Fidel Castro foes were executed today only hours after the revolutionary leader warned his enemies.

The executions brought this month's total to 28 and this year's to 119. An estimated 952 persons have died before firing squads since Castro took office in January, 1959.

RICHARD E. KEATING
Dies after long illness

R. E. Keating, San Anselmo, Dies At 59

Richard E. Keating, 59, West Marin insurance broker and member of a pioneer Bay Area family, died yesterday at a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

Keating, acting sheriff of Marin County in 1929 and 1930, was the husband of Marin County Librarian Virginia Vail Keating and brother of Presiding Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

When his late father, Sheriff John J. Keating, died, his late mother Ellen Keating took over the sheriff's post. It was then that Richard Keating served without pay as acting sheriff for two years.

He also leaves two other brothers, John J. and Bernard M. Keating of San Rafael.

Keating was active in the West Marin Lions Club, serving as president. He was also past deputy district director of the Lions, and a member of Phi Kappa Tau and Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents.

He was born in Occidental. His paternal grandparents came to Marin County in 1866 from Ireland, and his maternal grandparents settled in Sonoma the same year.

He lived at 130 Ross Avenue in San Anselmo and commuted daily to his insurance office in Point Reyes Station, which he operated for 30 years. He attended University of California before opening his insurance office.

Funeral services will be held 10 a.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Interment will be private.

Span Transit Study Voted

Golden Gate Bridge directors voted 8 to 5 today in favor of a board of review to study conflicting engineering reports on the bridge's ability to carry rapid transit.

Four bridge directors, including both Marin directors, changed their votes from the last meeting of the board when they voted 9 to 4 against putting rapid transit on the bridge.

Today's motion by San Francisco director Ben K. Lerer approves submission of the two conflicting reports to a board of review but leaves the manner in which this board of review will be selected and by whom it will be paid undecided.

Bridge President Matt Graham immediately referred the matter of selection and pay to the bridge's rapid transit committee.

The action came even after the bridge's attorney had questioned the procedure by which the motion was brought to a vote. The attorney noted that the acceptance of engineer Clifford E. Paine's report on Sept. 5, which would bar rapid transit, was a resolution whether that would over-ride the previous action.

Napa Director Peter Gasser, who led the fight against reconsideration, immediately asked for a written opinion as to legality of today's action.

Marin Director Leland Murphy in explaining his change of vote said he still believes rails should not be placed on the bridge but noted that the directors were "not jeopardizing the bridge by seeking more engineering opinions."

Marin's other director President Graham, did not make any statement as to his change of vote.

Sleepy Hollow Might Build Fallout Shelters

Possibilities of an assessment district to build neighborhood fallout shelters in Sleepy Hollow were discussed by 60 residents at a meeting last night at the home of Paul H. Talbot Jr. at 711 Fawn Drive.

Mrs. Talbot had informally spearheaded an effort under way for some time, her most immediate support coming from two women neighbors, Mrs. Charles A. Price of 160 Deer Hollow Road and Mrs. Robert Salles of 50 Van Winkle Drive.

Considered were a technical report on community shelters, showing the possibility of providing for 100 persons at $100 each. A movie on life in a group shelter was shown.

Possibilities of forming an assessment district to provide funds for community shelter construction are expected to be discussed with the county counsel soon.

Several speakers showed interest in some sort of shelter program for the area.

The Russians have detonated at least 15 nuclear devices since unilaterally abrogating the moratorium on such tests this month.

SOVIET FALLOUT DROPS ON CHINA AS RAINS COME

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It rained in Red China yesterday. The rain was probably radioactive.

The rain came when the air over all of Siberia and northern China must have been laden with fallout from Soviet nuclear tests.

Invisible clouds of fallout may pass over dry region without dropping much radioactivity, but rain brings the debris down.

Robert List, a weather bureau authority on fallout patterns, said "the rain almost certainly was radioactive."

List would not comment on how dangerous the radioactive rain might be to the Chinese Communists, but he said "it won't make them glow in the dark."

Dag Is Put To Rest In Town Of His Birth

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI)—Dag Hammarskjold, who spent a lifetime in search of world peace, went to his final resting place today in this town where he was born.

Statesmen and dignitaries from the many nations he served as secretary-general of the United Nations joined with his own townsfolk to give him a farewell unprecedented in Sweden in this century.

By decree of King Gustav VI Adolf, the man who began his career here as a civil servant was honored with the first state funeral accorded a commoner since 1896.

The royal funeral coach, drawn by four horses, carried the oaken casket covered with the blue-and-yellow flag of Sweden and with flowers and wreaths to the Hammarskjold family plot following services attended by more than 2,000 persons in Uppsala cathedral.

In the crowd which filled the medieval church to pay homage to the fighter for peace were King Gustav, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Madame Pandit, sister of Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, Nehru and Mongi Slim, president of the U.N. General Assembly.

Outside of the majestic-looking gothic cathedral, thousands of Swedes and tourists filled every available inch of standing room. The cameras of the Eurovision network brought the memorable scene to millions of people throughout Europe.

The services were conducted by Erlin Eidem, the 81-year-old archbishop of Sweden who came out of retirement to appear at the final ceremonies for Sweden's greatest son.

The younger archbishop Gunnar Hultgren, present head of the Swedish church, assisted in the rites with the dean of the cathedral, Olle Herrlin.

After prayers and hymns, Elisabeth Soederstroem, one of the stars of the royal opera, moved down to the middle of the center aisle to sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," from Handel's "Messiah."

Then the coffin was taken from the cathedral, followed by the representatives of the nations in whose service Hammarskjold died in a plane crash on a peace mission in the Congo.

His gravestone epitaph is as modest as was his life:

"Dag Hammarskjold, secretary-general of the United Nations, Born July 29, 1905, Died Sept. 17, 1961."

Americans contributed more than eight billion dollars to charity last year.

GOP Congress Gains Termed Key To 1964

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI) — National Republican leaders urged GOP delegates from 13 Western states today to fight for big gains in the Congressional election next year or forfeit the chance to regain the presidency in 1964.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) who kicked off the four-day conference, made it clear that unless the Republicans cut into Democratic majorities in Congress and the U.S. Senate next year, they face a long tough fight against President John F. Kennedy when he comes up for re-election.

"If we don't win big in '62, we're not going to have a '64," Goldwater, a likely GOP presidential candidate, said.

While Goldwater sounded the keynote, Republican national chairman William E. Miller conferred on the 1962 congressional outlook with delegations from Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Delegates from California, which will have 38 congressmen after the 1962 election—the largest delegation in the west—expressed the hope that the entrance of Richard M. Nixon in the California gubernatorial race strengthened the GOP's chances of registering House gains.

California's present congressional delegation is split 16-14 in favor of Democrats, with eight new seats added next year as a result of population increases.

Nixon is scheduled to speak at the final banquet Saturday.

Goldwater delivered a slashing attack against Kennedy and the Americans for Democratic Action.

"The failure of the 'New Frontier,' both at home and abroad, makes it a matter not just of political choice but of national and international urgency that Republican power be increased in congress," Goldwater said.

He said the 1962 battle for congressional seats "may go down in history as the most important off-year election this nation has ever held."

ADA, he said, had no less than 37 members "in key policy positions in the New Frontier," although the Senator said total membership in the organization was only 50,000. He said its policy goals were of "highly questionable nature.

Charles Wilson Rites Held

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (UPI) — Scores of government, military and business leaders served as honorary pallbearers today for Charles E. Wilson, former General Motors president and U.S. defense secretary in the Eisenhower administration.

Funeral services for Wilson were held at Christ Church Cranbrook here with Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, officiating.

Wilson died Tuesday at his plantation home at Wilson, La., at the age of 71.

Among the more than 60 honorary pallbearers were Adm. Arthur W. Radford (ret.), former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; Frederic G. Donner, General Motors board chairman; G.M. president John F. Gordon; former Army secretary Wilbur Brucker; Homer Ferguson, former U.S. senator from Michigan; J. Robert Loftis, administrative assistant to the secretary of defense, and former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Burial was at Acacia Park Cemetery in Beverly Hills, Mich.

Fast Heartbeat Can Be Restored

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three Boston physicians have reported that a dangerously rapid heartbeat can be restored to normal by applying an external electric shock.

The report was made in the current Journal of the American Medical Assn. by Drs. Sidney Alexander, Robert Kleiger, and Bernard Lown. They said they successfully used the external electric shock treatment when a 59-year-old man failed to respond to drugs.

The most common cause of this type of heart beat is with coronary disease. It frequently occurs within a few days after a heart attack.

In an editorial accompanying the article in the journal, the electric shock treatment was termed a "promising new approach."

Picket Lines Due In West Coast Ports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Masters, Mates and Pilots Union was scheduled to set up picket lines through West Coast ports today in a strike against the Pacific Maritime Assn.

The strike began Wednesday night after the union turned down a "final offer" by the association. However, picketing was delayed until today to permit unloading of perishables aboard ships in port.

An extended strike could tie up 135 vessels operated by 13 member companies of the association. The first casualty was the Matson Navigation Co.'s luxury liner Lurline.

It was scheduled to sail for Honolulu today, but Matson said the trip was canceled, and attempts would be made to book air passage for 500 passengers.

The dispute between the association and the union was the only part of this year's national maritime strike which was not settled before expiration of an 80-day cooling off period imposed by a Taft-Hartley injunction.

The injunction expired last week, but a West Coast strike of the union was delayed for formal dissolution of the injunction and then delayed further for last-minute bargaining.

Standard Oil Veeps Elected To Board

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two Standard Oil Co. of California vice presidents have been elected to the firm's board of directors, Board chairman R. G. Follis has announced.

The men were Paul L. Fahrney, vice president for national marketing policies, and Elmer R. Peterson, vice president in charge of the company's financial affairs.

NO RETREAT

U.S. Worried Over Suspicion In Germany

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials are concerned by reports of increasing West German criticism of American policy on Berlin.

They believe that much of this criticism is not justified, and any nervousness and irritation displayed by German officials will only make it more difficult to arrive at Berlin solution.

American officials said the United States does not intend to retreat from its pledges. Privately, these officials appeared annoyed by statements implying German suspicion that such a retreat might be considered.

"In drafting its foreign policy the United States is working closer with the Allies than ever before," one official said.

"Assistant Secretary of State Foy Kohler is meeting almost daily with the ambassadors from Britain, France and West Germany.

"The other North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies are continually consulted either through their ambassadors here or in the NATO Council in Paris.

"American foreign policy is an open book. You would assume it requirse an effort to misunderstand it, or to be uniformed about it."

Officials insist there has been no change in U.S. policy on Germany, and that none is imminent. But they concede that it is a matter of definition what constitutes a change and what does not.

If, for instance, the U.S. accepted token East German control of Allied surface traffic to Berlin by regarding East German officials as "agents" of the Soviet Union, would this constitute U.S. recognition of East Germany and thus a change in U.S. policy?

American officials say the question is hypothetical.

But diplomatic sources said agreement was reached at the recent conference here of the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers that the "dogmatism" of non-recognition should "not be overdone."

The sources emphasized, however, that diplomatic recognition of the East German regime had been ruled out.

Diplomatic sources said the West German worries seemed to center on two issues:

Recognition of the East German regime by the Western powers, a step which in the West German view would be tantamount to western acquiescence in the continuing division of Germany.

Recognition of the Oder-Neisse line as the permanent border between East Germany and Poland.

A.F. Generals Get The Word To Keep Fit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay has taken steps to require the 91 Air Force generals flying desks at the Pentagon to play squash, lift weights or exercise regularly in some other way.

The Air Force chief of staff, a pretty rugged type himself, has expressed "very, very great concern" that generals doing staff work keep in top shape, sources said.

To this end, the Air Force Surgeon General, Maj. Gen. Oliver K. Neiss, has drafted a program which is expected to gain final approval by LeMay.

Each general would be required to undergo a physical examination by an Air Force doctor, who then would recommend whatever measures might be needed to keep down waistlines and stay in trim generally.

Under the plan, general officers would have a couple of options. They could leave their offices for at least a half day a week for recreation or exercise "of which physical activity is an essential element." This could include golf.

If they preferred, the generals could take more strenuous exercise for shorter periods of time at an officers' gymnasium in the Pentagon.

Air Force doctors would keep tab to determine whether the generals attain and maintain the proper physical condition.

Fidel Shuts All Casinos In Havana

HAVANA (AP) — The last of Havana's gambling casinos closed quietly today within minutes after Prime Minister Fidel Castro had announced his government is cleaning up the city, once wide open.

Addressing a huge rally at Havana's Square of the Revolution, Castro promised measures to rehabilitate Havana's prostitutes and drive out white slave racketeers.

He warned dealers in the vice they face stiff penalties and told them to "go to Miami if they want. We will even pay their plane tickets." This was greeted with cheers.

The scene at the gambling casinos was more sober. Players immediately started leaving when told of Castro's order.

In the days of the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship, Havana had about 25 gambling casinos. They were a prime attraction for both tourists and American underworld figures who operated them—with a cut of the profits going to government officials.

The casinos were closed in the first days of Castro's regime early in 1959 but were reopened on a reduced scale to keep hotel employees and croupiers at work. At the end only about five were left and they operated in government-run hotels.

THIS LOVER COULD HAVE LAID AN EGG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A messenger delivered a note yesterday along with a carrier pigeon, two dozen roses and a bottle of champagne.

"If you agree to marry me," said the note, "set this bird free."

Stunned, but delighted, Marilyn Fagan, 24, freed the pigeon and it returned to its coop across town where Robert Bourke, 32, was waiting.

The wedding date hasn't been set but Bourke sighed, "I'm relieved."

He's from Livingston Manor N.Y. Miss Fagan is from Milwaukee.

Poor Safety Practice Cited In Two Deaths

Lives of two men killed in a Tocaloma trench cave-in recently might have been saved if trench walls had been shored-up in conformity with State Division of Industrial Safety standards, according to the North Bay Labor Journal.

Bracing in the excavation was apparently with plywood sheets and a Journal inquiry to the Division of Industrial Safety elicited that "bracing with plywood sheets and 2-by-4's for an excavation of this depth was in violation of state safety orders," the AFL-CIO organ reported.

Killed in the cave-in at the site of a new Marin Municipal Water District pumping station Sept. 19 were Dee H. Bradshaw, 42, Black Point carpenter, and Tom Burchfeld, 26, San Rafael laborer. Jamie Brewer, 21, Sausalito carpenter, was rescued after nearly three hours of work.

The conclusion drawn was that "two men who died . . . might still be alive "if the walls had been constructed in keeping with state standards, including special requirements for loose soil which the Journal understood to prevail in the area of the accident.

The Journal suggested that all construction workers with occasion to go into deep excavations "should familiarize themselves with the state safety regulations governing trenches and should refuse to do so if there is a safety violation."

Unexpected Low Bid On Span Job Received

A low bid of $751,000, more than $357,000 less than anticipated costs, was received today for widening of the north end of Golden Gate Bridge.

Massman Construction Co. of Kansas City, Mo., was low among six bidders for the eight-month job of flaring the Marin end of the bridge structure.

All five other bidders were grouped from $806,000 to $879,000. The bridge's consulting engineers had estimated the costs at $1,118,385.

The bridge board authorized awarding a contract to the low bidder upon approval of the bridge's general manager, attorneys and engineer. They must act within 45 days.

Meanwhile, the district must obtain final approval of the Army. The army had objected to preliminary plans, but changes were made to meet its demands.

The contract calls for always keeping at least five lanes of traffic open during reconstruction, and six lanes open during the two peak hours in the morning and afternoon.

Drunken Drivers Fined, Jailed

One drunken driver drew five days jail and a fine for his third offense, and two others were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ordered the jail term for Halstead Powell Councilman, 47, of 12 Park Way, Mill Valley. He must also pay $263 fine.

Councilman was caught on Highway 101 last Aug. 7. He had two prior convictions in Willits, in September and November, 1957.

James Barkley Robinson, 38, of 448 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, must pay $158 fine and remain on six months probation. He was caught on Highway 101 last June 10.

John Sherwood Curtis, 48, of 334 Rose Avenue, Mill Valley, drew $166 and six months probation. Curtis was caught in Mill Valley last Tuesday.

Barley Growers To Get Credit

Barley growers who voluntarily harvest some of their crop for use as feed grain will receive payments for diverting part of their 1962 base to conservation uses, A. J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station, head of the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

He said the program will be similar in many respects to the recent feed grain program for corn and grain sorghums but will be administered as a separate program in 1962 except for the cross compliance provisions.

Predicted Storm Went Thataway

A mild storm, predicted for Marin County last night, moved east from Eureka and headed for South Dakota instead, the weatherman said today.

Forecaster L. B. Rasey of the U. S. Weather Bureau at the San Francisco International Airport said the Marin weekend would be fair with a slight rise in temperature.

Teen-Age Dances Planned Again In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation commission announced today that it will co-sponsor teen-age dances with the Mill Valley Teens, Inc.

The first senior teen club fall dance will be held next Friday, from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. The first junior teen club dance will be Oct. 13 from 8 to 11 p.m.

Under the arrangement, the teen club pays $20 per dance to a park and recreation fund to pay for an assistant dance director. The assistant will be Ray Remy of Corte Madera.

The city recreation director, Ronald Samet, will act as dance director.

Dances will be held on each first and third Friday of the month for senior teen-agers—those who attend high school. They will be held each second Friday for junior teen-agers—All dances are at the Outdoor pupils of Edna Maguire School. Art Club.

The Mill Valley Teens will provide band music.

Hospital Meeting

Jack Hauser of Corte Madera, assistant administrator of Franklin Hospital in San Francisco, today was attending the 63rd annual meeting of the American Hospital Assn. in Atlantic City, N.J., where he was scheduled to be admitted to membership in the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Man Jailed After Chase In Store

A San Rafael man was arrested for being drunk and disturbing the peace last night after he allegedly broke two display cases in a drug store while chasing his wife.

San Rafael police answered a call at 9 p.m. to PayLess Drug Store at 866 Fourth Street where they found Carl Emmett Trumble, 35, running through the aisles. Police said Trumble was bleeding from two cuts about the eyes and that his shirt was practically torn off.

His wife, Janice Pauline Fay Trumble, 22, said Trumble had ben in a fight earlier at the Old Fashioned bar at 1105 Fourth Street. She and her husband were walking to their parked car when he began arguing with her and chased her into the store, she said.

Police subdued Trumble and took him in handcuffs to San Rafael General Hospital. There he attacked his wife again, tearing the sleeve from her dress, they reported.

Trumble, who lives at the Court San Rafael Motel on Highway 101, was held today in lieu of $131 bail. He was to appear in court this afternoon.

Community Center Building On Schedule

Design work on Terra Linda Community Center buildings, swimming pool and other outdoor park and recreation facilities is proceeding on schedule, James B. Schryver, director of the Terra Linda Recreational District, said today.

He said architects have reported they are preparing drawings and specifications to be ready for bidding by Nov. 1. Completion of the facilities at Del Ganado and Oleander Park sites is expected next spring.

Vandals Break Bakery Windows

Vandals, apparently with slingshots and marbles, broke 13 windows last night in the warehouse of the Langendorf Bakaries at 629 Lindaro Street in San Rafael, police reported.

The damage was discovered at 7:30 a.m. today by an employee, Robert Ray Kone of 60 Crescent Lane, Novato. There were marbles inside the building and on the ground outside, Kone said.

Recall Of Blair Debated On Video

The effort to recall Marin County Supervisor J. Walter Blair was attacked as "a rotten thing" and defended as the only way to stave off "irreparable damage" in a four-man television debate over San Francisco's educational station KQED last night.

Marin defense fell to Sausalito attorney John B. Ehlen, who said Blair devotes 50 hours weekly to conscientious effort to carry out his campaign pledges and asserted it is abuse of the recall institution when "you hardly let him warm his supervisorial seat before you try to knock him over the head."

CITES JUSTIFICATION

Mill Valley attorney Peter H. Behr, who had filed his declaration of candidacy only a few hours before, said the recall is justified by crisis.

Answering a query by moderator Caspar W. Weinberger. Behr said there was no desire to "pick on" Blair, whom he described as "a nice but stubborn person." But voters of the Third District have no control of other supervisors who have accompanied Blair in "a program that will mean the end of this county as we have come to know and love it" if long continued, Behr contended.

During one exchange with Ehlen, Behr inquired whether Ehlen had ever read Blair's campaign pledge. Ehlen retorted, "I wrote it!"

Blair defended the board of supervisors 4-1 position in backing a 20,000-acre rather than a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore.

"If it is 53,000 acres," said Blair, "then 32 per cent of all the land area in the county would be off the tax roll. Taxpayers must make this up."

Blair said he had been against the civic center, the people had denied a bond issue but saw their will frustrated, and added that "we needed a county hospital badly and still do."

Supporting Behr, his fellow attorney, David Ring of Tiburon, said the recall movement should be considered by Blair "an ideal situation to vindicate himself." He charged that the Third District has been in turmoil.

"Don't count me in I haven't been in any!" shouted Ehlen.

Asked by the moderator if a man should be recalled for keeping a campaign pledge, Ring said "anybody is entitled to a mistake" but said Blair had consistently failed to represent his district.

Behr said Blair had not by any means returned government to the people as promised and that when his constituents attended board meetings, they had been shut up.

"Is he running the board?" asked Ehlen.

"No," said Behr, "but he represents his district and should see that the quick gavel of the chairman doesn't descend on the poor heads of his constituents."

Blair said opposition to the Strawberry tower apartments had been by a "pressure group." Ring termed the project "a disaster" and said there was no place in the Third District for high-rise apartments.

"We must have some kind of industry to broaden the tax base," said Blair. He claimed the apartments will bring a quarter-million dollars a year in taxes.

Behr and Ring contended little has been done by the board of supervisors to attract light industry.

As the program closed Ring was insisting that to let Blair go on would bring "damage that would be irreparable." Blair contended "all these charges are purely trumped up." He charged the recall had been planned before he was even elected.

History Hunt Is Started In Sausalito

Sausalito's "Old Timers" will have an opportunity to contribute to documenting the city's posterity at a meeting, ""This Was Our Town," at the Sausalito Woman's Club at 8 p.m. Oct. 19.

The club is searching for older people who can give information about old Sausalito which is to be put in an official collection.

Persons are invited to the meeting to speak or bring documents, chairman Mrs. Warren Zimmer said. Items are desired of 20 years but preferably older. Pictures, or copies of pictures, are sought of such things as carriages, ferries, ships such as whalers, buildings, school class pictures are of interest and elementary school records.

The club is particularly interested in any information on the Richardson family for which Richardson Bay was named, and on El Rancho Saucelito, Mrs. Zimmer said.

Photographs or documents may be sent to Mrs. Zimmer at 37 Filbert Street.

School Resort Junket Cleared By Grand Jury

San Jose School District officials were "justified in every respect" in taking a weekend junket to Hoberg's Resort last August to discuss school business, the Marin County Grand Jury decided last night.

The grand jurors reached the conclusion after about an hour of grilling School Supt. Philip W. Schneider, Jury Foreman William L. Hughes announced.

"To us, it appears the trip was justified in every respect," said Hughes. "We feel confident that they accomplished far more than if the meeting had been held here. We were also much impressed by what Mr. Schneider is trying to accomplish in the school district."

Foreman Hughes explained that legality of the trip was not under question because the county counsel has already held that it was a legal trip. Only the propriety of the trip, which cost $577, was under investigation.

Schneider explained that the Hoberg meeting was to acquaint school board members with the establishment of a good school library and with a new mathematics program for the school district. Other topics taken up during the weekend included the role of the speech therapist and the school psychologist.

The school superintendent said one reason the meeting was not held in Marin was to avoid interruptions during the many conferences.

The next meeting of the grand jury is set for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 11 in the county courthouse. This and one other meeting should wind up the affairs of the present grand jury, foreman Hughes announced.

Air Force Tester Will Be On Duty

S/Sgt. James Holley, Air Force test examiner for Marin County, will be on duty at the recruiting offices, 819 A Street, San Rafael, tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. to give special test sessions, he said today.

The tests will be for enlistment aptitude, women's selection and pilot and navigator selection, he said.

Students To Have Voice On College Committee

College of Marin trustees voted last night to include student representation on the college's student personnel committee.

College President Stephen E. Epler recommended the committee consist of Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, and seven members of the faculty. But trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy suggested a student be added.

Other trustees suggested perhaps a student could sit on the committee meetings without a vote.

"What would be the student's function if he did not have the right to vote?" asked Mahmoud Abouzeid Jr., editor of the college newspaper, the Tower Times.

Board President Kent O. Seymour answered, "The student can express his views to the committee."

After mild discussion, the trustees voted unanimously to include two students on the committee: A sophomore representative would be a full member with a vote, and a freshman who would sit as an observer only.

In other action, the College of Marin board:

1. Instructed Dr. Epler to write the Marin County Board of Supervisors and San Anselmo City Council urging that Corte Madera Creek be cleaned before winter rains. Trustees were concerned with the area through the college property and above Ross and Kentfield.

2. Instructed Dr. Epler to write the board of supervisors requesting a three-way traffic light on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at College Avenue, to replace the present two-way light.

3. Set a discussion of the board policy manual and administrative regulations manual for the next board meeting Oct. 12.

4. Employed Howard R. Blair as a part-time English instructor at $1,200 for the current semester; hired Robert Douglas as a science department reader at $2 per hour; granted a salary hike for instructor Mildred Wollet from $9,600 to $9,900 per year.

BARE BRAINS NOT KNEES, EDUCATOR SAYS

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Brains, as well as short skirts which exhibit knees, are fashionable this year at Coucher College, the women's college in suburban Towson.

"The human knees," said Goucher president, Dr. Otto F. Kraushaar yesterday, "does not appear to be well suited to display.

"But the emergence of brains is refreshing," he told about 700 coeds at the convocation opening the new academic year.

In the post-sputnik era, he said, "intelligence has rocketed into the position of our greatest national asset."

College Board Turns Down Junket Idea—At Least Now

College of Marin trustees last night shelved a recommendation by President Stephen E. Epler to send all five members of the board and three administrators at district expense to a four-day convention in Denver, Colo.

After trustee George G. Washburn complained of the high costs of such a junket, the board agreed to bring up the matter later. The convention of the American Assn. of Junior Colleges is scheduled for next Feb. 28 through March 3.

Washburn said the trip would possibly cost about $1,500. He said the college budget could not afford such an expense.

"I don't believe in pleasure junkets so I vote no. I vote to send Dr. Epler to the convention," Washburn said. "We don't have to run back East to solve our problems."

Board clerk Elizabeth M. Deedy said she felt board members and administrators see things at conventions in different ways. Attendance by the board would be beneficial to the district, she said.

Said trustee Robert E. Oliver: "This is a long way off. I would like to defer this and get an up-to-date report on the travel expense budget before taking any action."

"I'll go along with that," said Washburn.

In other business concerning trips and conferences, the board:

1. Approved a field trip to Yerrington, Nev., Oct. 20-22 for instructor Stephen C. Bruff and his mineralogy students. The board approved use of the school station wagon and paying for Bruff's meals.

2. Approved sending all board members and Dr. Epler to California Assn. of School Administrators and California School Boards Assn. annual conference in San Francisco Dec. 4-9 at district expense.

3. Approved sending Bruff to California Junior College Assn. fall conference in Yosemite Oct. 31-Nov. 2, at district expense.

4. Approved sending Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, and 20 college students to a regional student government conference in Monterey Oct. 21 at no expense to the district.

Road Death Rate At Record Low

CHICAGO (UPI) — The traffic death rate on U.S. highways fell to a record low of 4.9 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles during the first eight months in 1961, the National Safety Council announced yesterday.

The council report showed that the traffic death rate on 20 turnpikes was less than half the overall highway fatality rate. The death rate on turnpikes was 2.2 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles.

The eight-month overall death toll was 23,760, compared to 24,090 for the same period last year, the council said.

Span Transit Review Asked

A resolution asking that the Golden Gate Bridge District directors authorize an independent review of feasibility of rapid transit rail facilities on the bridge was given the directors yesterday by the Marin County Council of Mayors and councilmen.

The resolution was approved Wednesday night by the unanimous action, with San Rafael representatives abstaining, at the council's meeting at the Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato.

T. J. De Lassaux, a Marin County member of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District board, made an impromptu appearance at the meeting. He urged the passage of the resolution by the council.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley was the featured speaker. He described the workings of the Assembly and told of the power of the Assembly speaker in naming committees. Bagley also told of recent legislation that would affect city governments.

Canadian Consulate Aide Moves To Marin

F. Martyn Meech, formerly with the Canadian Military Mission in Berlin, has moved to Larkspur to join the Canadian Consulate General in San Francisco as consul for trade and information, Consul General Orvill E. Ault announced today.

Meech previously has served in Paris, Boston, and Accra. His wife and two sons have joined him at 12 Palm Avenue, Larkspur.

Wheat Farm Rates

Individual wheat farm rates for acreage diverted to conservation uses under the 1962 federal wheat program will be based on productivity related to a county average whose rates have been fixed at $22.40 and $29.70, according to announcement by the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Two Electrocuted As Rig Hits Line

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Two workmen were electrocuted yesterday when their construction rig struck a power line in a subdivision north of here.

They were Larrie Anderson, 33, Daly City, and Terrence J. McCann, 26, of Burlingame.

Police said they were digging sign posts when a boom on their truck, driven by Anderson, brushed against a 12,000-volt wire.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Ignacio's Bellucci Acquires Chef To Sub For Him While He's Away

Dave Bellucci of Ignacio has acquired one Italio Bussacci to chef for him in Marin County while Dave is away in Los Altos with his multi - multi Adobe Creek Lodge project.

Italio is new to Marin—his background includes 27 years at the Statler Hotel in Detroit. Look for a menu at Bellucci's expanded soon into many old style Italian dishes.

We hear from Dave, too, that there is a possibility of Chris Baseheart coming in this winter to set up a cocktail lounge. He'll transfer his liquor license from the Club Rio.

LUAU DINNERS at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera start tonight and continue daily from 6 p.m., featuring gourmet delicacies and South Sea delicacies.

Featured also is a mighty cute cocktail hostess, Joy Ahan, formerly of Queen Surf in Honolulu and holding a teacher's degree from University of Hawaii. She'll appear in regular Hawaiian costume which she fills with an A-plus average.

SABELLA'S will open its take-home department in seafoods next week. It's an outside door but don't let that stop you from going inside the restaurant if you'd rather do your consuming on the spot or admire the scenery. The store will provide you with anything that's on the menu to take out, however.

We note that Frank Cox, Sabella's maitre, will exhibit his 1917 Pierce-Arrow at the Concours d'Elegance in Forest Meadows, San Rafael, this Sunday. Frank picked up this old horseless carriage in an old barn in the East Bay last year and has already shown it 10 times, taking one first prize.

NICK KOBSEFF at the Rancho Nicasio is all enthused about the new recipe for chicken Kiev he picked up from a former chef at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Though served many places now, this dish will be made up from scratch at the Rancho—a feat that only a few attempt because of the time and care involved.

T-bones and New Yorks are still strong favorites here. No more hearts of palm salads available—the blame is placed on Castro for cutting off the stalks of supply.

SOUP DU JOUR: Bob and Rich Nave of Nave Bowl, Ignacio, and Art Schattie and Al Burns of Pinky's Pizza, San Rafael and Larkspur, stole the show from Dominic's Harbor Restaurant last Monday noon when the 10-foot rowboat they were using to cross the canal foundered. Manager Jim Pius is willing to sign them for regular appearances if they can guarantee the same act without any changes.

MANY DON'T KNOW that Skipper's in Sausalito now has a full-fledged bar on its premises, as well as good Italian dishes — chicken cacciatora, homemade ravioli, veal preparations and charcoal - broiled steaks. Barney West who makes tikis for Trader Vic on his spare (?) time is doing the cooking.

Open daily for lunches and dinners—except Mondays.

WE WISH to express our sorrow on the passing of Hector Paris, friendly owner of Novato Joe's, and sympathy to his relatives and associates. He was one of the hardest working and most sincere restaurant men we have ever known.

CONGRATULATIONS to chef Jean Joaquin for his efforts among restaurant men, union officials and educators to promote a workable training program in Marin for restaurant help.

No one approached has denied the need for it. Marin County, now becoming a recognized dining center, shouldn't be overtroubled with problems of getting capable frycooks, pantrymen and trainees in the kitchen who might someday become topnotch cooks and chefs.

Pay is good but the ranks are depleted; the union can't supply experienced replacements and is willing to help.

"Count us in, too," said Bill McDonnell of the Spinnaker who attended the recent promotion meeting with his partner Don Lynam. So have said many others, including many from San Francisco who are genuinely interested.

CONGRATS, TOO, to El Paseo Restaurant, Mill Valley, that celebrated its fifth anniversary yesterday under Mary Harkins. She'll have another on Oct. 28—the first on acquiring her wine license.

EVERYBODY'S HAPPY: Juanita Musson, that her mural painted by John Garth found a home at the Music Box, San Rafael; the Music Box for having it; John Garth himself who came to the showing last week, that it's not rolled up in some attic.

He painted it many years ago for a little longshoremen's hideout near the Embarcadero in San Francisco, picking his most luscious models of the day.

Pancake Eating Contest Planned

If you're a pancake eater, pay no attention to that old song about "They're Either Too Young Or Too Old."

Eugene's Restaurant at 909 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, plans to award trophies to the oldest and the youngest pancake eaters in Marin County.

Owner Eugene Lachenbach urged today that pancake eaters may help celegrate National Restaurant Month in October by registering at his restaurant, starting Sunday, for "the great pancake eating contest."

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa and Independent-Journal columnist Harry Craft will be honorary judges in deciding just who the prize-winners shall be. Trophies will be awarded the first week in November.

MAMA SURPRISES KATRINA

The play will be repeated tomorrow at the same time. Stuart Rasmussen is director. (Bob Prather photo)

Marin String Quartet Sets Mill Valley Concert Sunday

The Marin String Quartet will present Sunday at 3 p.m. the seventh of the free concerts it has given annually at the Mill Valley Public Library.

Quartet members are Mabel Pittenger, director and first violinist; Michael Gerling, second violinist; Esther Furnas, viola, and Jean Maguire, cellist.

All are residents of Mill Valley except Miss Furnas, who lives in San Anselmo.

Guest soloist for this concert will be Bette Kuhlmann of Mill Valley, flutist.

She will play in a quartet for flute and strings, known as the "Rosamunde," by Mozart and the quintet for flute and strings "Four Minutes, Twenty Seconds" by the contemporary American composer Roy Harris.

Other numbers on the program will be string quartet in A minor by Schubert and the premier performance in the Bay Area of "Dances of Panama" by the American Negro composer William Grant Still.

Boy, 7, Dies In Path Of Bulldozer

NEW YORK (AP)—Two months ago, fearing for the safety of their little boy, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Guarino moved from congested Brooklyn to a residential area of Staten Island.

Yesterday, Mrs. Guarino heard a woman scream and saw a crowd assembling at a nearby site of an excavation for a new home.

When she arrived at the scene she saw the broken body of her son, Michael Jr., 7, under a bulldozer.

Police said the boy slipped from an embankment into the path of the moving machine.

MARIN FILM FARE

Beautiful, Bad Girl Coming To Hub City

By LES DARD

There's much that is marvelous about Marin movies this weekend. Let's take a quick look:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A beautiful, bad girl comes to the screen Sunday . . . Diane McBain in the role of "Claudelle Inglsh."

When the picture opens, Claudelle is the sweet, innocent daughter of a tenant farmer, in love with a sharecropper's son. Her mother wishes she would return the interest of a wealthy man, but Claudelle remains faithful to her poor boy, even after he goes into the Army.

A shattering blow comes when Claudelle learns her fiance is going to marry another. Deeply hurt, the girl vows revenge on all men.

The screenplay attempts to show that strong moral support from Claudelle's parents might have prevented her downfall, but the strength was not there.

Arthur Kennedy plays the hard-working father, with whom the girl eventually seeks refuge. Constance Ford portrays the mother who wanted better things for her child. Chad Everett plays Claudelle's fiance. Other notables are Will Hutchins, Claude Akins and Frank Overton.

Strictly for adults.

LARK THEATER

"Hiroshima, Mon Amour," now at the Lark, is a difficult film to classify.

On the one hand, it is a love story; on the other, a plea for peace. On all levels, it is unusual, an experiment which doubtless will intrigue the sort of filmgoer who has elevated Ingmar Bergman to top rank.

It concerns a French actress (Emmanuele Riva) and a Japanese architect (Eiji Okada).

In the process of their friendship, she learns of the hell that was Hiroshima; he learns of her girlhood love for a Nazi invader who was shot by a sniper and died in her arms. The grief and disgrace of the incident drove her to madness.

Since then, she has been seeking an image of that lost, first love. What emerges from her Hiroshima romance is the universal anguish of a couple trapped in their time.

The film won the 1959 Cannes Festival award.

SEQUOIA THEATER

The pretty presence of Ingrid Bergman distinguishes "Goodbye Again," coming to the Sequoia Sunday.

It is the soap-opera film version of Francoise Sagan's novel, "Aimez-Vous Brahms," the story of a love between a young playboy and an older woman.

Anthony Perkins won the Cannes Festival best actor award for his role as the young man. Ingrid's lover, a cad, is played by Yves Montand.

Anatole Litvak's fine direction, good camera work and exquisite settings make "Goodbye Again" well worth the watching.

FAIRFAX AND TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Now on screen at both theaters is Marlon Brando's excellent western, "One-Eyed Jacks."

Brando took a well-worn plot about a wronged badman seeking revenge and turned it into first class entertainment, which will appeal even to those who don't come running to most shoot-'em-ups.

Brando plays the bandit who escapes from prison seeking revenge from his ex-confederate, now the respected sheriff of Monterey, Karl Malden. As well as respectability, Malden has acquired an attractive wife, Katy Jurado, and step-daughter, Pina Pellicer.

All turn in fine, sensitive performances.

RAFAEL THEATER

The powerful "Guns of Navarone" is with us for another week at the Rafael.

This most exciting war film tells about a group of six commandoes assigned to wipe out two huge Nazi guns buried in a seacliff of the Greek island of Navarone.

Gregory Peck leads the group, which includes Anthony Quinn as a tough Greek officer, David Niven as a dynamite expert, Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle and James Darren.

Two women partisans are well portrayed by Gia Scala and Irene Papas.

By any standard, this picture packs a wallop.

NOVATO THEATER

"Tammy Tell Me True" takes to the Novato screen Sunday.

Sandra Dee plays a gamin off a southern shanty boat who spouts old-fashioned proverbs in an early American tongue. As Tammy says, she's "hunger bit" and "discombobbled," and she's cute.

Left alone when her preacher grandpappy is jailed for making corn liquor, Tammy decides to get some schoolin'. She ties up her boat at Seminola college. There she proceeds ot do more teachin' about good old common sense than she does larnin'. Incidentally, she also steals the heart of her English teacher, John Gavin.

This one's for the whole family, just for fun.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Return to Peyton Place," sequel to the highly successful "Peyton Place," comes to the Motor Movies Sunday.

In this new story, Grace Metalious, author of both books, has written of the impact her first book had on the small New Hampshire community she dissected so thoroughly.

Carol Lynley plays Allison, a young beauty who writes a novel about her home town and the lives of its inhabitants. Also starring are Jeff Chandler, Eleanor Parker and Mary Astor.

Sausalito Scouts

Sausalito Boy Scouts Troop 8 will meet for the first time with its new scoutmaster, Dr. Philip Huffman, at 7 p.m. next Tuesday at the Central School.

'Positive Strategy' Needed—Judd

NAPA — The United States needs "a positive strategy" to win the cold war, a strategy based on strengthening weak countries (through foreign aid) and uniting the strong, Rep. Walter H. Judd told the Executives Dinner Club of Napa Valley last night, a talk heard by a score of Marin residents.

The Minneapolis congressman, keynote speaker at last year's Republican national convention, told some 500 dinner guests at the Napa fairgrounds that communism has no nationalistic interests, that its sole objective is world domination.

There is change going on around in science, governments, and many other things, Judd declared. "But there can be no change in communist ideals. They have a dogma which requires they dominate the world. This is a faith, a religion. They must 'liberate' oppressed peoples of the world —that's us. For the first time the Christian religion has an aggressive competitor."

They want to conquer the world "because they want peace. They're not hypocritical. They believe in what they are doing. If we would just see that we are holding back history . . ."

The situation is not like the differences between the Democratic and Republican Parties, he continued. The two parties want the same thing but have different ways of reaching it. With communists the objectives are different, they seek different ends. The reason we can't reach agreement with them is that "we don't agree about man, the universe, morals or God. We aren't playing by the same set of rules."

They are not Russians or Chinese, they are "world revolutionists." They destroy everything nationalistic, even to the people, for the benefit of this revolution.

Judd, who talked for an hour and a half without seemingly taking a breath, declared "we are now on the brink" at Berlin. In Laos, "we broke down," in Cuba, "we broke down. If President Kennedy let's go once more we're done for."

"We must be strong, but we must win with our ideas, ideas which put stars in people's eyes. We've got the greatest ideas in the world. Where are we going to get the words to tell this story? We need urgency. We need a 'new birth of freedom under God.' Our country was in motion when we were younger, then we became strong. Now communism is in motion. What can we do? We can get our country in motion again," he concluded.

Dr. Dwight Murray, president of the Executives Dinner Club, presided at the meeting.

Among those attending from Marin were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Heisig, Mrs. John J. Pershing, Mrs. Hugh Lancaster, Dr. and Mrs. Sean Maloney, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huber of Mill Valley; Miss Rita Morinville of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Worlund, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chaille, Mrs. Matt Graham of San Anselmo; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dupuis of Tiburon, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rossio of Lucas Valley.

Fulltime Defense Chief Request Is Expected

Chairman William D. Fusselman is expected to ask Marin County supervisors at their Tuesday session to seek a fulltime civil defense chief.

He may replace Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos with the present title of assistant director, under Fusselman as director, or there may be revival of the former Marin title of "civil defense coordinator," Fusselman said today.

Plans for several developments designed to revive the county civil defense program were made Wednesday at a meeting of the county Disaster and Civil Defense Council, part of a set-up created by ordinance and resolution in 1951. Fusselman's expected presentation for a fulltime head will represent the initial action arising from the meeting.

Other moves will include assembling of information on food and other provisions for family shelters, to be obtained by county welfare director Betty L. Presley from Hamilton Air Force Base, and a trip by Fusselman, county public works director Marvin W. Brigham, former College of Marin president Ward H. Austin and perhaps others to Livermore, Alameda County, for consultation on a shelter program which has been extensively studied there.

Fusselman said he feels the first thing to be done is to undertake a recruiting effort to find the right man to head a rejuvenated civil defense program.

Mountanos has repeatedly said that successful accomplishment of a real program requires that some competent person take fulltime charge.

Drug Linked To Deaths Given State Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A special state Senate fact-finding committee concluded a two-day hearing today on whether the legislature should pass special safety laws controlling distribution of chloromycetin—a potent antibiotic which has been associated with a frequently fatal blood disorder.

The state Department of Public Health has records of nearly 600 deaths from the blood disorder, aplastic anemia, in the past 10 years. It is currently conducting a study to determine if there is a relationship between the disease and the drug.

Dr. Philip K. Condit of the department testified during the opening session yesterday that among a group of 223 such cases reported to the American Medical Assn. chloromycetin had been administered in 41 per cent of the cases.

Dr. Daniel Liebowitz, Stanford University professor, described the antibiotic as a "two-edged sword, a dangerous drug when improperly used but a very valuable drug under certain circumstances."

However, a procession of physicians pharmacists were cool to the idea that the legislature should regulate the distribution of the drug.

Doctor Condit said aplastic anemia deaths apparently resulted when chloromycetin was prescribed for common colds and minor maladies and said the drug should not be used if some other equally effective antibiotic is available.

Liebowitz said chloromycetin is no more dangerous than many other drugs, and that even aspirin can be fatal in rare cases.

He said the answer is to better educate patients and physicians, and that a special law would lead to writing "the entire compendium of medical knowledge" into law. But Liebowitz admitted that dangerous drugs should carry warnings to patients.

The Senate group, headed by Sen. John F. Thompson (R-Santa Clara) also is considering the possibility of requiring such warnings by law.

Drama By Synge Opens Oct. 20 In Sausalito

The Sausalito Little Theater will present J. M. Synge's Irish classic, "Playboy of the Western World," starting Oct. 20 for a four-week run at the theater at 745 Bridgeway.

Director will be John King, a veteran of the Sausalito Little Theater.

Four newcomers to the Sausalito stage will appear in leading roles. Ed Pilley of Mill Valley, who was born in Shanghai, studied drama at North Texas State University and toured France and Germany with the Seventh Army symphony and soldiers show company, has the title role of Christy. His girl, Pequeen, will be played by Mia Carlile, who has played in Palo Alto and San Francisco. Adelaide Roberts, the widow Quin, was a foundation member of the Dublin University players in her native Ireland. Andrew Susac, who plays old Mahon, has had 15 years experience in acting.

Ticket reservations may be made at the Tides Bookshop, 749 Bridgeway, for the Friday and Saturday performances at 8:30.

Assembly Speakership Fight Gets Warmer

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton made an 11th hour bid today for one of the most important jobs in California politics—speaker of the assembly.

The Merced Democrat arrived here one day early to muster his forces and schedule a morning news conference to tell how his bid was going.

Winton's opposition, Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles was not expected to arrive until late tonight but so far as he was concerned the battle was won.

The assembly meets at noon tomorrow in a unique caucus to pick a successor to former Speaker Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto) who resigned last week to become an appellate court judge in Fresno.

Unruh last night claimed support of 56 assemblymen and wrote his supporters that he appreciated "the fact that you have not wavered in the intervening months."

He called a special caucus tomorrow at 11 a.m.—one hour before the assembly meets—to "review procedures."

Unruh and Winton, both Democrats, have been the only announced candidates for the post since shortly after the 1961 legislature convened last January and it became clear that Brown was going to take the judgeship.

All along, Unruh, whose 39th birthday is tomorrow, has confidently predicted he would be the next speaker. Recently, he even went so far as to say that Winton would withdraw from the race.

But Winton, 48, fired back that this was not so, that he was in the race all the way and that he was gaining support and that "victory is in sight."

Adenauer Appears Still Solid Leader

BONN (UPI) — Wily old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be winning his fight to continue as chancellor of West Germany.

The free Democratic Party (FDP) last night dropped its demand that Adenauer must retire immediately. It indicated it might be willing to support him for one year.

Erich Mende, chairman of the FDP, dropped the hint while campaigning.

The FDF is the third force in West German politics — behind Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's Socialist Party. As a result of the recent national elections in which the Christian Democrats lost their absolute majority in parliament, a coalition with the FDP has seemed necessary.

Immediately after the elections Mende said the FDP would refuse to join a coalition that had the 85-year-od Adenauer at its head. He insisted the new chancellor be Adenauer's economics minister, Ludwig Erhard.

Last Monday Adenauer opened negotiations with the Sociaists in what political experts interpreted as a move to rattle the FDP. Apparently it had the desired effect.

"The FDP will probably have to consider giving its confidence to Chancellor Adenaur for a transition period," Mende said.

The Socialists have been seeking an all-party coalition, whether led by Adenauer or not. They have been out of the government for 30 years and are anxious to get back in.

Informed sources said formal negotiations for a coalition now will begin between the Christian Democrats and FDP early next week.

Although Adenauer himself has been cagy on the question, his aides were saying openly even before the Sept. 17 election that he wanted to stay on as chancellor only to carry the country through the Berlin crisis.

Teacher Leaving For Marine Corps

Robert C. Mersereau, new teacher at Brookside School in San Anselmo, will leave to become an officer in the Marine Corps Monday.

He was hired this year to teach the sixth grade at Brookside, and almost immediately received notice he would be called into service.

Dairy Unit Vacancies

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Agriculture Department has called a series of public meetings throughout the state Oct. 10 to accept nominations for nine vacancies on the 25-member Dairy Council of California.

Waterfront Plan Backed

Sausalito Citizens Council directors last night went on record urging the city to "get on with the job of setting the central waterfront plan into physical motion."

The board, according to corresponding secretary Carl W. Spring, endorsed the planning commission proposal for the area, and said some of alternate plans are "just serving selfish interests."

The plan, which concerns civic buildings, circulation, park and parking, was given a public hearing by the city council Tuesday and another is to be held Oct. 10.

Directors also discussed the proposed city sign ordinance. They agreed, Spring said, that the city needs such an ordinance.

Glen T. Hall was appointed as director to succeed John F. O'Brien, who resigned because of business pressures.

Hall, an executive with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco, has lived in Sausalito eight years and resides at 43 Platt Avenue.

New Crusade Chairman Is Named

Douglas R. Horton has been named chairman of the 1961 United Crusade campaign in Marin County, Harry J. Cooper Jr., president of the Marin United Fund, announced today.

Horton succeeds Byron W. Leydecker, who was transferred this week to Stockton as manager of the Crocker-Anglo National Bank there.

Horton steps up to the chairmanship from a post as one of two vice-chairmen for the campaign, each of whom had responsibility for four of eight divisions. His fellow vice-chairman, Carroll Walker, now will be sole vice-chairman, Cooper said.

Cooper expressed regret that Leydecker is leaving and termed it "a loss which we share with the entire Marin community." He praised Leydecker's "magnificent work" in directing the drive thus far and said that he leaves "a solid campaign structure that I am confident will be continued under the new leadership. I am very pleased that Doug Horton found it possible to assume the responsibilities of the campaign chairmanship at this critical point."

Horton, who is district commercial manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., has been active in the United Crusade for several years. He is a director of Marin United Fund. He is also a trustee of the San Rafael General Hospital Foundation, a director of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, and a member of the San Rafael Rotary Club.

Horton resides in Novato with his wife and two sons.

Bottlers Sue Teamsters Union

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bay Area soft drink bottlers have filed a $700,000 suit against striking Teamsters for alleged unlawful picketing in the current labor dispute.

The union was charged with causing a secondary boycott outside the jurisdiction of the east bay and San Francisco locals involved.

The action was filed yesterday by Coca-Cola, Seven-Up, Dr. Pepper, Shasta, Royal Crown, Enterprise, and Pepsi Cola bottling companies. In addition to the $700,000, the bottlers asked $4,200 for each day the strike continues.

Hitchhiker Found Guilty Of Murder

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — A jury of six men and six women tonight found Joseph M. Walker, 35, guilty of first degree murder in the death of a Santa Rosa businessman who picked him up as a hitchhiker a year ago.

The Washoe district court jury deliberated seven hours after a 10-day trial. Walker will be sentenced Friday. The jury recommended the death penalty.

The businessman, Paul Allison, 59, was found stabbed to death in his pickup truck on a Reno parking lot.

Marin Elevens Face Heavy Fire

Bulldogs, Tam Play Home Games Tonight

By PAUL MILLER

Another big football pre-league weekend for Marin high school chargers gets under way tonight.

Two home games will be played tonight and two more tomorrow. Tonight at San Rafael the Bulldogs will clash with St. Mary's High School, and at Kentfield the Tamalpais Indians will go to war with Riordan High. Terra Linda High played Drake Junior Varsity late this afternoon. Away games tonight will be between San Rafael Military Academy and St. Helena and the College of Marin and Chico State Junior Varsity.

Tonight's kickoffs are set for 8.

HORNETS AT HOME

At Novato tomorrow, Sonoma High will smack pads with the Hornets at 2 p.m. Six hours later, Drake will take on Oakland High at Kentfield. At Salinas, the Marin Catholic Wildcats will square off against Palma, and Tomales will open its 1961 gridiron campaign at Petaluma against St. Vincent's.

The San Rafael Bulldogs' practice drills went well this week. And coach Bob Muster is glad because he knows his team will be facing a rough customer tonight. The Bulldogs have succumbed twice to St. Mary's in the last two years. They will be pinning their hopes for revenge tonight largely on the combination of quarterback and passer Jack Soverign, and Bruce McPhail, a skilled receiver just off the injured list.

"St. Mary's is a real good ball club . . . better than Montgomery," says Muster, who scouted the Berkeley team last week. "They have a charging line and good pursuit." He predicts a close game "and a break could give it to us."

COLDS HURT

San Rafael will be at full strength numerically tonight, but the players may not. Key linemen Dennis Nickel, Rich Robertson, and Chris Yaeger will start, but all three have suffered bad colds the past week, and may need more rest than usual during the conflict.

Starting with the aforementioned Bulldogs (except McPhail who will be a substitute specialist) will be halfback Alan Finley, wingback John Posey, fullback Mike Shafer, ends Bruce Howard and Marty Vincent, guards Jack Clark and Jim Flanagan.

"Woe is me," is the way coach Phil Roak of the San Rafael Military Academy feels about tonight's game with St. Helena. Knowing that the academy's weakness this season is lack of depth, Roak was shaken to learn late this week that right end Steve Leheim will not be able to play tonight, and that tackle Dave Blane will see only limited action. Both have sprained ankles.

St. Helena beat the academy last year, 27-0, and has two victories under its belt this season already.

Tamalpais High coach Jim Hanretty says his Indians have just about learned their full quota of offensive plays for the season — "the first time I've been able to say that so early in the season." Now, he says, it will be largely a matter of polishing those maneuvers.

One area that was under the buffer in practice this week at Tam was tackling.

"It will be pretty close to an even game," says Hanretty of the Riordan tilt.

Art Foster and Brian Laurie will be the starting ends for Tam along with Elmer Collett and El Fellows, tackles, Paul Farren and Donn Johnston guards, Bob Souza, the center, Rich Hamilton, fullback, and Warren Domino and Chuck Muziers, halfbacks. Calling signals will be Tex Hamilton.

Drake's coach Bob Franceschini is well aware that Oakland will be a much tougher outfit to handle than Sonoma, swamped by the Pirates last week. However, this week's practice indicated the San Anselmo team will be ready for Oakland tomorrow.

HARD RUNNERS

"Our backs were running harder, and our blocking and tackling looked much better," said Franceschini, who also handed his athletes some new pass patterns for Saturday's battle.

The Novato Hornets could score there second win in three attempts this season, and by a big margin, says coach Marlin Olsen "if we can muster our offense." This week in practice the coaching staff did see some improvement.

Olsen says that in the last two games, the offensive backs had been giving away the nature of the play about to be unfolded. The faults, revealed both in scrimmage and films, have been remedied, according to Olsen.

INJURED WELL

Players on the injury list, with the exception of Mike Fleming, will be back in full time action tomorrow afternoon for the Hornets. Olsen was happy to announce that one of those starting will be right halfback Craig Bond, who has been out of both the early ball games. Others off the sick list and starting are halfback Mike McCormick, guard Marshall Taylora nd wingback Joe Colfer.

Others on the opening team will be right end Joe Jones, right tackle John Cook, left tackle Art Cherry, center Bob Pain, right guard Ron Heidinger, left end Martin Baccaglio, and quarterback Don Scribner.

It was like a checker game on the practice field at Redwood High in Larkspur this week as coach Bob Troppmann and his staff realigned, switched and shifted personnel, plays and intentions. For example, Mark Pearce, who had been playing defensive linebacker as well as his guard spot on offense, was moved to the forward wall on defense this week. Kip Solinsky, who was working as a deep back, will be at the linebacker spot now, and his brother Steve will fill the deep back spot.

Troppmann's purpose in the shakeup is to "bring mobility into the forward wall" of the team, where speed this season has been lacking. Another Giant who will move into the line on defense is guard Buddy Weckel. He will hold down his offensive spot there too.

FOE RESPECTED

Troppmann said that after scouting Carlmont last week, he decided that his boys this year will be facing a better club than last year's champion Giants. And this bodes ill because Redwood last year bowed 12-0 to Carlmont.

Marin Catholic coach Harry Moore would like tomorrow night's game at Palma to be a victory. Moore coached the Palma High group to a championship the year before he came to Marin. Palma still has three lettermen who worked under Moore on the championship team, and this season in two outings, the Salinas school won 21-0 and 24-0.

Moore scouted Palma in Salinas after Marin's game with Analy last Saturday afternoon, and concluded that Palma will be tough.

Red Hickey Plans To Call More Plays

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Word out from the San Francisco Forty Niner training camp today had it that coach Red Hickey would call more plays from the bench against Detroit.

Last Sunday, it appeared that quarterback John Brodie was not reaching very deep into the bag of tricks which the Forty Niners shotgun formation affords. Hickey has long felt that you have to throw the book at the opposition from the shotgun spread.

That means the quick kick, laterals, reverses, double passes and the like. This is especially true against a team like the Lions, who boast a solid defensive line backed by the all-pro linebacker Joe Schmidt.

The Forty Niners yesterday shifted to a secret spot for their practice.

Hickey called it a great workout and said his team has looked sharp all week.

He announced a starting lineup identical to last week's with one exception. C. R. Roberts will replace the departed J. W. Lockett at fullback.

Raiders' Feldman High In Praise Of Tripucka

OAKLAND (AP) — Frank Tripucka, the Denver Broncos' possing quarterback, is going to have to put on quite a performance against the Oakland Raiders Sunday to live up to Raider Coach Marty Feldman's description of him.

The two teams will meet at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

All week Feldman has been working his defensive team overtime on pass defense and telling anyone who'll listen about how great Tripucka is.

"We're scared to death of Tripucka and that guy Lionel Taylor. They're just about the best passing combination in football," Feldman said yesterday in the same awed tones he's used all week.

Feldman said he will use Alan Miller at fullback Sunday, despite steady improvement of former Michigan Stater Walt Kowalczyk.

"Miller is one of the finest blocking backs around. He should give a good account of himself all season long," the coach declared.

BULLETIN

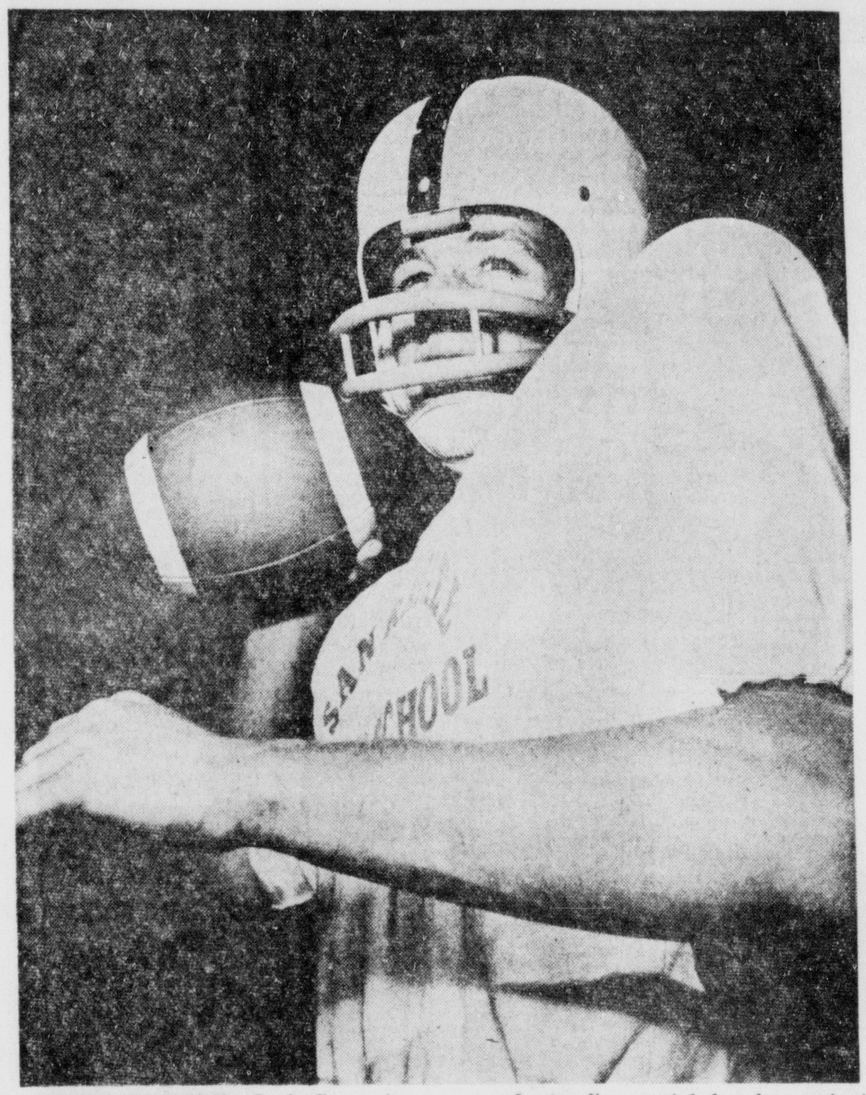
NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel today agreed to a one-year contract to manage the New York Mets of the National League which will start operation in 1962.

Giants Won't Up TV Total

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants plan no increase in the number of televised road games—11—next season despite a recommendation from the city to put all 1962 road contests on the screen.

Charles Feeney, club vice president, said the cost of televising all road games would be prohibitive and would cut attendance at Candlestick Park.

Nine of the games proposed for television next year will be against the Dodgers at Los Angeles.



READY TO FIRE—Jack Sovereign, San Rafael High's ace quarterback, has his passing arm all cocked and ready to fire aerial bombs against visiting St. Mary's of Berkeley on the Bulldogs' home gridiron this evening.

Pigskin Picks For Games This Weekend

Here is the way KTIM sports director Ted Mitchell foresaw the football games involving Marin teams this weekend in his broadcast this morning:

Carlmont over Redwood by 6;

St. Mary's over San Rafael by 8;

St. Helena over San Rafael Military Academy by 6;

Oakland over Drake by 12;

Novato over Sonoma by 18;

GUNNING FOR NO. 61—New York Yankee blaster Roger Maris sights down the shotgun presented him by the Connecticut Sportswriters' Alliance in tribute to his batting feats. Maris will be aiming for his 61st home run of the season tonight. (UPI photo)

Roger Maris Goes After His 61st Homer Of Year Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Home run No. 61 is the target tonight as Roger Maris starts in pursuit of the circuit shot that will make him the only player in major league history to hit more homers in one season than Babe Ruth.

Maris has only the three-game set starting tonight at Yankee Stadium against the Boston Red Sox in which to hit No. 61 and surpass the total of 60 compiled by the Bambino in 1927 when he established baseball's most revered record.

Maris, of course, cannot break the Babe's record, according to the ruling of Commissioner Ford Frick, who set a 154-decision limit on tying or breaking Ruth's 34-year-old mark, and he'll be playing without homer-hitting partner Mickey Mantle.

Mantle, who has hit 54 homers, was hospitalized yesterday with a hip infection and will miss the final games of the League's expanded schedule. He is, however, expected to be ready for the opening of the World Series against the Cincinnati Reds next Wednesday.

Neither Mantle nor Maris, who took a day off Wednesday when the Yankees played Baltimore, worked out yesterday as the A.L. champs used the open date for a hitting drill and an opportunity to discuss their series opponents.

Maris hit No. 60 against Jack Fisher Tuesday night, then provoked comment by sitting it out against the Orioles Wednesday because he was "bushed."

On yesterday's light program, the Los Angeles Dodgers clinched second place in the National League as Don Drysdale six-hit Philadelphia 10-0, and third-place San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 7-4. In the American League, Cleveland bopped Minnesota 12-5 and Los Angeles drubbed Washington 13-4.

Drysdale (13-10), beating the Phils for the sixth consecutive time, gained his third shutout of the year. He also hit a homer while Daryl Spencer connected for a three-run shot as the Phils contributed six unearned runs with four errors.

CONSOLATION PRIZE

Giants Clinch Share Of 3rd In Standings

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Alvin Dark and his San Francisco Giants have some consolation even though they fell short in their bid for the National League pennant.

By beating Pittsburgh 7-4 yesterday they clinched at least a tie for third place and compiled the highest victory total since the team, then in New York, won the pennant in 1954.

The Giants open their final series of the season tonight against Milwaukee hoping to add to their total of 84 victories.

They need only one victory in the three games to keep Milwaukee from gaining a share of third place.

For the Giants, Mike McCormick (13-16) or Bob Bolin (2-1) will start against either Warren Spahn (20-13) or Tony Cloninger (7-2).

The Giants' win over Pittsburgh yesterday, 12th in 22 meetings with the Bucs this year, came on the strength of six hits in the fifth, when Pittsburgh starter Earl Francis left for the showers.

Jim Duffalo, Giant starter who lasted until the eighth, doubled to spark a third-inning rally in which singles by Felipe and Matty Alou cut the Buc margin to 3-2. The big fifth then provided the winning margin, which needed protecting by reliever Stu Miller in the eighth and ninth.

Matty Alou started things rolling in the fifth when he doubled with one out. The next three men—Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou—singled.

After Ed Bailey flied out, Harvey Kuenn singled. Jose Pagan followed with a single that drove in the final runs.

The Pirates, playing before a home crowd of only 5,384, scored once more when catcher Smoky Burgess singled home Bob Skinner who had led off with a double in the eighth.

Dark expressed pleasure with the team's showing and said that if the Giants clinch third place tonight he will turn over managerial chores to Kuenn Saturday.

Title Fight Pulled Out Of Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — The Floyd Patterson-Tom McNeeley heavyweight championship fight has been pulled out of Boston and it may be staged as part of a big closed-circuit TV doubleheader at Toronto on Nov. 20.

President Tom Bolan of Championship Sports, Inc., announced last night that the heavyweight title fight, originally scheduled for the Boston Garden on Nov. 13, will be shifted to another city because of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission's delay in approving the use of an out-of-state referee.

Bolan said two cities were under consideration but he did not name them.

Bolan's announcement was made only a few hours after Sonny Liston, the suspended number one heavyweight contender, had been acquitted in Philadelphia of trying to evade police arrest by turning off his automobile lights.

The proximity of Liston's acquittal and Bolan's announcement lent credence to widespread rumors that Liston will fight Canadian George Chuvalo, eighth ranking contender, as part of the Toronto doubleheader—if Liston's suspension by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission and National Boxing Assn. is lifted as expected, now that he has been cleared by the law.

Promoter Bolan's assertion that challenger McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., would still be the challenger even though the fight is shifted away from Boston, McNeeley's backyard, indicated that Bolan would not be depending upon the Patterson-McNeeley fight as the sole attraction in some other city.

Mexican Tennis Stars Advance At Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI)—An all-Mexican final became a possibility today in the Pacific Coast Tennis Championships.

Mexico's top two stars, Davis Cuppers Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, both moved up one round yesterday, Osuna reaching the quarter-finals and Palafox the semi-finals.

Palafox, the fourth-seeded speedster, had a rugged battle before disposing of young Tom Edlefsen of Oakland, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. Osuna, seeded second, had an easier time overcoming Hugh Ditzler of Berkeley, 6-2, 6-4.

Alan Lane of Syney, Australia, qualified to meet Palafox in the semi-finals when he downed University of California ace Bill Hoogs Jr., 7-5, 6-1.

Today's remaining quarter-final pairings pitted Osuna against Clif Mayne of Berkeley, and San Francisco's Gene Ward against Jim McManus of the University of California.

In the women's singles third-seeded Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., a member of the victorious U.S. Wightman Cup team, was upset by Linda Vail of Oakland, 6-2, 6-1.

Valerie Williamson of Eureka, Calif., bounced Karel Footman of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-4, and Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica eliminated Rosemary Casals, San Francisco, 8-6, 6-1.

Fleeting Fame Has Come To Many Under Glare Of Series Spotlight

HANLEY

MILWAUKEE—Fleeting fame is one of the inevitable by-products of a World Series. Will it be a Red or Yankee brushed by fate this year?

Who can forget Don Larsen pitching the perfect no-hit, no-run game against the Dodgers October 8, 1956? And where is the ex-Yankee now? Thrice traded, once back to the minors, he is with the White Sox.

There was another Yankee who came within one pitch of hurling a no-hit game against the 1947 Dodgers. Anyone remember Floyd (Bill) Bevens? Cookie Lavagetto's two-out double in the ninth spoiled Bevens' golden moment and he never won another major league game.

In that same '47 series, the Yankees were trailing 8-5 in the sixth with two on and Joe DiMaggio at bat. The Clipper walloped a tremendous blow into the bullpen, apparently a homer. But a substitute outfielder, Al Gionfrido, out-ran the ball, leaped his own height of 5-6 and gloved it as it was about to clear the barrier.

IT TAKES AN old, old timer like Clarence (Pants) Rowland, now a Cub vice president, to remember the all-Chicago World Series of 1906 between the White Sox hitless wonders and the Cubs who romped through the National League that year with 116 wins.

George Rohe, with a lifetime batting average of .200, was the most hitless member of the '06 Sox. Yet, in that series he hit .333, winning two games single-handedly and the Sox became the World Champions in six games. One year later Rohe was in the minors, never to return.

Even the youngest of baseball fans remember the dramatic highlights of that seventh and final game between the Yankees and Pirates last year in Forbes Field — the grounder that hit Tony Kubek in the throat and Bill Mazeroski's winning homer.

AND WHAT HAS Mazeroski done this year? No worse and no better than the rest of the Pirates excluding, of course, Bob Clemente, the lone Buc to defy the World Series jinx. Clemente is winding up as the National League batting champ.

Actually, the so-called jinx of fleeting World Series fame is just so much superstitious stuff that seemingly is substantiated by isolated case histories, such as those we picked at random from the files of Larsen, Bevens, Gionfrido and Rohe.

There are just as many case histories to disprove the jinx theory and you need look no further than the Yankees for dozens of them. Yogi Berra, the man, incidentally, who called all the pitches for Larsen in that perfect one, is a pretty good example of what we mean. Yogi has played in so many World Series and set so many records that the statisticians probably will stop counting on him after the upcoming one.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Sometimes It's The Non-Conformist Who Brings Home The Big Fish

STEVENS

Fishermen are funny. The majority hold to the thought that wherever the main fishing flotilla is anchored, that is where the fish will be.

Very frequently this is good practice. But at times the non-conformists make bums out of the majority.

Like, for example on Monday: For the preceding two days fishing had been ultra productive in the Buoy 10 area. The flotilla was anchored there over a quarter section of bay bottom. Some made the grade—but a lot of skiffs, private cruisers and party boats didn't do so well.

Now let's take a look at a couple of skiffs manned by non-conformists. Ray Robbins, Ray Robbins Jr. and Hans Greatech, aboard one boat, decided they didn't like to be crowded, so they dropped their hook well downstream from Buoy 10 in more shallow water. Results? Limits for all, including one 17 and two 15 pounders, and with the smallest fish hitting six pounds.

I AM WRITING this column on Wednesday afternoon and I have just learned that, while fishing in the Buoy 10 area is still producing plenty of fish, most of them are much, much smaller. Nadine Lessley just called to inform me that one party boat came in at noon today with six limits up to four pounds and the Happy Days unloaded 10 bass to four pounds .The Jack Pot, an all-day boat, came back to the harbor with limits for 10 passengers, but the largest fish weighed six pounds. I believe the Jack Pot on Tuesday had five limits to six pounds. I know the Happy Days No. 3 to[illegible] 14 bass to six pounds T[illegible]y morning and 10 up to s[illegible] pounds on her p.m. trip.

Because of choppy water in the mid afternoon Wednesday, quite a few of Frank Joseph's skiffs (Rodeo) were coming in at 3 p.m., most with either limits or near limits including a flock of four and five pounders and a few that went to nine pounds.

So, why all the palaver about conformists and non-conformists? Simply because I lament the lack of scouting being done by skippers of party boats (who, I admit, are more or less controlled by the wishes of the passengers) and skiff riders. In the old days, whenever the large mediums and lunkers gave way to the small fry, the entire Upper San Pablo Bay would be scouted to relocate the schools of large fish.

It is silly to believe that the enormous shoal of eight-to-15 pounders have all been caught. They are somewhere around.

It is also silly to go fishing right now with only a couple of pounds of sardines. You need plenty of bait. Better buy it, rather than regret not having it when the fish start hitting.

With the present five and six foot tides, it's a good bet that the more shallow water will produce the larger fish.

REPORTS FROM the Marin side of the Bay indicate steadily improving conditions. With calm weather, this weekend should furnish some really top flight stripers. From China Camp and Joe's Launching I am assured of such improvement. Suggested spots are Corregidor, the Pump House and the flats in that general area.

Some action was had Wednesday in the Buoys 6, 8 and 10 areas.

Two separate reports from old time aglers indicate it is too early to expect anything but an occasional spurt in the McAvoy, Pittsburgh and Antioch sectors. Same is true of the back country generally. Lots of catfish, but not many bass as yet.

SALMON TROLLING is very spotty, but some really big ones are being taken at odd times. This may presage a good run of the huge King salmon we have been taught to expect at this time or a little later in the year.

I just made a pot of bass chowder out of the carcass of the eight pound striper I caught Monday. I am bragging that the way I make a bass chowder is one that every lover of the finer things of life should know. Want my recipe? Send a self-addressed and stamped envelope to Ralph Stevens, 544 52nd St., Oakland, and I'll send it to you.

'C' Cagers Play Three Contests

Redwood, Novato and San Rafael scored victories yesterday in Marin County Athletic League "C" basketball play.

Redwood laced Tamalpais 25-13 at Tam as Mike Russell collected eight points and Jack Baglietto grabbed off 12 rebounds. David Lusian was high for the losers with seven points.

San Rafael outlasted Drake 31-21 in the closest game of the day, and Novato walloped Terra Linda 39-15 as Terry Young scored 11 points.

Marin Catholic drew a bye yesterday.

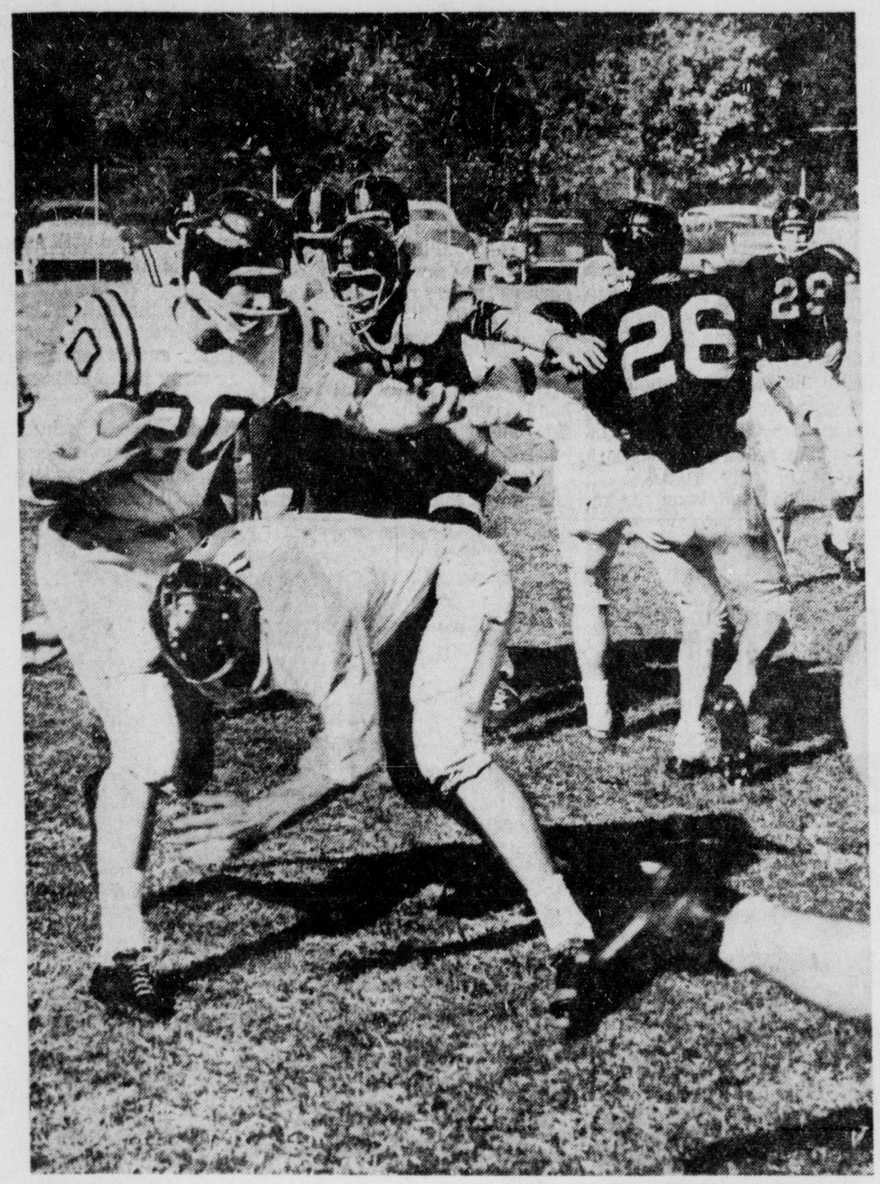
FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Battling Torres, 140¼, Reynosa, Mexico, knocked out Joey Limas, 139½, Albuquerque, N.M., 2.

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va.—Thomas Dejarnette, 186¾, West Virginia State Penitentiary, stopped Tunney Hunsaker, 201, Fayetteville, W.Va., 8.

TOKYO—Katsutoshi Aoki, 114¾, Japan, outpointed P. T. Singtong, 115¼, Bangkok, 10.



MIXING IT UP—It has been those old fundamentals of solid football, blocking and tackling, which have been emphasized this week by the College of Marin Tars as they prepared for tonight's contest at Chico with the Chico State College junior varsity eleven.

(Independent-Journal photo)

Tar Spirits High For Chico Game

The stress was on fundamentals for College of Marin's Tars during workouts this week at Kentfield.

Morale is high for the Mariners' second game of the season tonight at 8 with the Chico State junior varsity at Chico.

After losing their first contest to Menlo College last Friday 12-0, the Tars as a team showed anger, not disappointment, and head coach Dick Read is happy.

"The boys were mad at themselves after the Menlo game," Read said. "They didn't try to alibi, but just felt they had kicked away two or three good chances to score. There was no problem of getting the boys up for tonight's game. The anger they had for themselves has been re-directed to Chico."

Reflecting on last week's game, Read was generally pleased.

"We're dealing with an inexperienced squad. Without detracting from the job Bob Sparrow did, we missed Ron Blum's experience and leadership at quarterback," said Read. "We were generally inconsistent on offense, and Sparrow was really pressured by the Menlo defense. I think our defense did a fine job."

The squad now numbers 33, after injuries to quarterback Ron Blum, tackle Ron Grayson and center Fred Corson. All three were billeted for starting roles before the start of the season.

Corson suffered a torn cartilage during the Menlo game, and cannot play again this year. Blum broke his hand during a scrimmage one week before the first game, and is not expected to return until midseason. Grayson wrenched his shoulder during a light workout the day before the Menlo game. He will not play tonight, but may be in the lineup against the University of California "Aggies" junior varsity Oct. 7.

Read lamented the loss of Corson. "In addition to being a fine ball player, Corson has excellent leadership qualities," said Read.

Martin McKeay, 200-pound Novato High star and a veteran of the Tars' 1960 team, will replace Corson.

Starting backfield for the Chico game will remain unchanged except for the insertion of Jim Lonsford, former Redwood player at fullback. Lonsford was a standout on both offense and defense against Menlo. In addition to McKeay, new starters in the line will include Warren Nickel, who played under Read at San Rafael last year, at left tackle, and Ron Simmons, a member of the championship Bulldog team of 1958, at right end.

Read, who once scouted Chico State as assistant coach at San Francisco State, remembers the Chico State teams as traditionally big and fast.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Red Hickey Wasn't At His Best In Handling Norton And Lockett

CONNOLLY

Anytime a coach of a professional team, be it baseball, football, hockey or marbles, puts the blame on his athletes and uses that as a reason for release, it smacks of an alibi or cover-up.

In case you're wondering to whom I'm referring, I'll let you in on a secret. I'm referring to Red Hickey, the brave head man of the 49ers who slipped walking papers to Ray Norton and J. W. Lockett after reviewing the pictures of the game in which the Green Bay Packers made the 49ers act like novices and filled the shotgun offense as full of holes as a Swiss cheese.

NOBODY CAN deny Hickey the right to ask waivers, release or ship a player down the river. But they can blame him for the explanation.

It was only a few weeks ago that Red was chortling that Lockett had "IT" and that Norton was a dandy prospect in spite of his size.

And boom—comes the Green Bay walloping and out the window go both players. One is supposed to have missed a couple tackles and ran blindly. The other is too inexperienced, according to the gridiron experts who travel with our entry in the National Football League.

If as Hickey is quoted as saying, "inexperience is frightening," then heaven help pro football in the future. It is one sport where inexperience is overcome only by playing out the string.

EXAMINATION of movies of a game following its conclusion has always interested me. It might be a good idea to allow the papers to use a "magic eye" to determine who missed whom and why. At least it might justify any action or punishment a coach would dish out.

I've attended banquets and lunches and many times have heard coaches take "nasty cuts" at their players. It has always been done, however, in a jocular vein—al-la-Jack Curtice of Stanford.

The late Howard Jones, coach of the famous Thundering Herd of Southern Cal, was asked if he intended to bench a player. His retort has always been considered par for the coaching course. Here it is:

"If I caught one of my players stealing I might let him go, but to tell him he was a thief—never!"

Some of the pro coaches might emulate Jones.

ON SUNDAY the 49ers go to the post against Detroit and it looks rough. They said in the reports of the Green Bay defeat at the hands of the Lions that Detroit was lucky. Against Baltimore nobody said the Lions were lucky. They were just good. So as our brave 49ers get ready for Sunday's hassle, we just wonder who it'll be who gets his walking papers if they lose again.

Stanford Aims At Upset Win Over Beavers

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Encouraged by an opening triumph, the Stanford Indians invade Corvallis battling to upset the favored Oregon State Beavers tomorrow.

"We hope we can show as good a defense and a better offense than we did last week," declared Stanford Coach Jack Curtice.

His team battled back for a 9-7 victory over Tulane to end and 11-game losing streak. Curtice figures. "We'll stop some others before this season is over."

TWO PROBLEMS

The big job at hand is stopping the Beavers' one-two punch of Terry Baker and Don Kasso who both can run and pass. Last year they were tailbacks in an Oregon State single wing so only once could play at a time.

This year Coach Tommy Prothro installed a spread-split T offense with Baker at quarterback and Kasso at letf half providing double trouble for Beaver foes, and although they lost to powerful Syracuse 19-8, the Beavers showed a solid attack.

Curtice expects the Beavers to revert to the single wing for a couple of surprise plays.

INDIANS SURPRISE

Although he had tipped newsmen that Stanford's defense had improved, the Indians' showing against Tulane came as a surprise. The Green Wave didn't penetrate into Stanford territory until the third quarter and was held to 145 yards net.

Stanford gained 301 with 151 on the ground and 150 through the air.

Chuck Butler, a non-letterman senior, took over at quarterback and it was his 47-yard pass to Larry Royse that brought the winning touchdown. QB Rod Sears still gets the starting call.

Sophomore Mike Barnes showed enough at right half against Tulane to win a first team spot. And sophomore Frank Atkinson, a 236-pound tackle, proved a standout on the line along with veterans John Butler, Chris Cottle, George Honore and Randy Vahan.

The Garden State, a 2-year-old test at one mile and a 16th, will carry an added value of $125,000. It is set for Nov. 4 at the Camden, N.J. oval.

Long Afternoon Ahead For California Bears

IOWA CITY (AP)—Iowa's No. 1 ranked Hawkeyes rate as four-touchdown favorites over California yet new coach Jerry Burns terms himself apprehensive over tomorrow's football game.

"Our scouts report that California is a team of far greater potential than it showed in the loss (28-3) to Texas last Saturday," he said.

Burns guides the Iowa football team for the first time since Forest Evashevski handed over the reins to devote himself to the duties of athletic director.

He'll start 10 veterans and one sophomore — 237-pound Gus Kasapis at left tackle. The offense guided by quarterback Wilburn Hollis with such speedsters as Larry Ferguson and Sammy Harris appears far too strong for the undermanned California defenders.

California coach Marv Levy, already beset by lack of depth, won't have quarterback Randy Gold or sophomore breakaway threat Jon Mason.

Gold suffered knee injury in pre-season drills and Mason pulled a muscle this week. He had just recovered from a pre-season injury.

So the job of engineering the Bears' offense again falls to junior Larry Balliett who last year played only on defense.

"Alan Nelson and Jerry Scattini are capable halfbacks, but we don't have speed in there without Mason," Levy commented.

Biggest gun in the California attack is fullback George Pierovich. Capt. Jim Burress furnishes experience and dependability at half-back.

Nine Californians had to play from 45 to 50 minutes against Texas and showed fatigue. But with Levy terming this squad less deep than the 1960 bunch, it looks like another long afternoon.

Bill Stacy, rookie, safetyman for the St. Louis Cardinals' football team last season, is hoping to play as an offensive halfback this fall.

Yankees Given Edge In Hurling Department

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Experience gives the New York Yankees the edge in pitching over the Cincinnati Reds.

No one has started more games in World Series history than Whitey Ford, the ace of the American League pennant winners. The brilliant lefthander has started 14, compiled a 7-4 mark and is tied for most victories with Allie Reynolds and Red Ruffing.

Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford, who figure to draw the other starting assignments for New York, worked in last year's series. Terry lost two games, yielding the home run to Bill Mazeroski in the final game that gave Pittsburgh the title. Stafford pitched six innings with no decisions.

Luis Arroyo, Jim Coates and Bob Turley of the Yanks also have seen series action.

On the other hand, none of the 10 Cincinnati pitchers eligible for the 1961 postseason championships starting in Yankee Stadium next Wednesday, has any series experience.

The starting pitchers almost are certain to be Ford (25-4), Terry (15-3) and Stafford (13-9) for New York and Joey Jay (21-9), Jim O'Toole (18-9) and Bob Purkey (16-12) for the Reds.

The fact that all six have impressive won-lost records is a tribute to the team's excellent relief pitchers — Arroyo (15-5) for the Yankees and Jim Brosnan (10-3) and Bill Henry (2-1) for the Reds. These three will be the late-inning relievers. Coates (11-5) and Bud Daley (12-17) for New York and Ken Johnson (6-2) and Jim Maloney (6-7) of Cincinnati are likely to get the relief calls from the first through the sixth innings.

On a collective basis, the Reds' pitchers have 46 complete games, 12 shutouts, permitted 143 homers and a 3.78 earned run average. Yankee pitchers have totaled 47 complete games, 13 shutouts, allowed 137 home runs and have a 3.51 ERA.

Paret Hoping He'll Regain Welter Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Benny (Kid) Paret held the world welterweight boxing championship 11 months before he lost it to swashbuckling Emile Griffith.

The Cuban, 24, gets a return title crack at Griffith in a 15-round television (KGO, 6 p.m. PST) fight at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

"I'd sure like to get the title back," said Paret through an interpreter. "You don't know what being champion means until you're no longer champion."

The odds are 3-1, however, that the muscular, aggressive kid won't dethrone Griffith.

Griffith, 23, a Virgin Islands native now living in New York, has won eight straight fights over strong opponents and has shown improvement — especially in power — with each fight.

Griffith's record is 25-2, including nine knockouts. He never has been stopped.

Paret's record is 33-10-3, including 9 knockouts. He has been stopped twice.

Lopez In Wreck

NEW YORK (AP)—Hector Lopez, utility outfielder for the New York Yankees, escaped injury in an auto collision last night.

Nittany Lions, Hurricanes Clash Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Penn State's Nittany Lions battle the Miami Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl tonight in a slam-bang opener to a full weekend of college football.

In Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum, Southern California will try and right itself from a 27-7 beating by Georgia Tech last week when it plays Southern Methodist.

These two games, plus Virginia Military's encounter in the Southern Conference against Richmond and Detroit's battle with Xavier (Ohio)) are the only games tonight before a big schedule on Saturday, during which the nation's top-ranked team, Iowa, will get its 1961 baptism of fire along with a few other untested powerhouses.

When Iowa trots out its team under new coach Jerry Burns, against California (0-1), it will be much like the one that had a 9-1 record last year.

Ohio State, ranked third in the Associated Press weekly poll, also opens its season, but must face a surprising Texas Christian club that upset Kansas last week. The Buckeyes once more have their "three yards and a cloud of dust" offense, headed by All-America back Bob Ferguson.

Michigan State No. 10, another Big Ten power, opens against Wisconsin (1-0).

All the other top-ranked teams have been in action. Mississippi, ranked second, opens defense of its Southeastern Conference title against Kentucky (0-1) while Alabama, ranked fourth, battles Tulane (0-1).

Oklahoma and Notre Dame, both on the comeback trail after poor 1960 seasons, open at South Bend and may be seen on television (KGO, 11 a.m. PST).

Touch Football Program For Boys To Start

A San Rafael Recreation Department Saturday touch football league program for elementary school age youngsters 9 through 12 will open tomorrow at Albert Field from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The youngsters will sign up tomorrow and run through some basic football fundamentals.

A league for fourth and fifth graders and another for fifth and sixth graders is planned. All boys living in the San Rafael School District are eligible and invited to attend.

After the teams are organized, games will be played Saturdays on either the San Rafael or Terra Linda high school fields.

Qualifying Play

Mrs. George Prydz shot an 83 to win low gross medalist honors in the qualifying round of play in the Mill Valley Women's Golf Championships on the Mill Valley course yesterday.

Low net honors went to Mrs. W. A. Van Buskirk with a 94-31—63.

Dick LeMay, rookie pitcher with the San Francisco Giants, had 85 minor league starts in four years of baseball when called up. Only two of his 34 complete games were shutouts.

Problem Children To Be Discussed

The problems of problem children will be discussed by representatives of Tamalpais High School District and of agencies concerned with such children in a series of meetings announced today by Robert H. Prather, Tam District coordinator of child welfare.

The meetings will be held at Tamalpais High School Oct. 3 and Feb. 6 from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., Redwood High School Nov. 7 and April 3 from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and Sir Francis Drake High School Dec. 5 and March 6 from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Loyal Listener

BRISTOL, Conn. (UPI) — Two years ago, because she had trouble sleeping, Mrs. May R. Page turned in an early-morning radio program which solicited money to help unfortunate persons. When she died recently, Mrs. Page bequeathed the program $1,210,000.

Tam District Unit To Study Curriculum

What, if anything, must be added to Tamalpais High School District's curriculum to meet new state requirements for teaching of history and civics will be studied by a committee announced today by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Legislation passed this year rqeuires that, in seventh through 12th grades, students be given 20 semester hours of American and California history, 20 semester hours of world history, civics and geography, and 10 semester hours of American government.

The Tam District now gives 10 semester hours of American history, 10 semester hours of world history, and five semester hours of "Problems of American Democracy." How much of the required subjects is given in seventh and eighth grades in the 12 elementary school districts within Tam High District must be determined by the committee.

Carlisle named Duane F. Miller, Sir Francis Drake High School history teacher, as committee chairman. Other members are Robert D. Torrey, district director of instruction; Charles C. Crawford and George Pohlmann of Tamalpais High School; Wendell D. Ames and Arthur A. Chapman of Redwood High School, and Charles G. Simonds of Drake.

Kennedy's Mother Is Visiting Rome

ROME (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of President John F. Kennedy, arrived by air from Paris yesterday on a private visit.

She is staying at the home here of Oliver Brooks, of the economic section of the U. S. Embassy, who is an old friend.

Tonight Mrs. Kennedy will be guest of honor at a dinner at the Brooks' at which U. S. Ambassador G. Fredericks Reinhardt will be present.

Competition Growing In Bond Issue Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—States and communities floating bond issues and the dealers who act as middlemen for the public are sizing up a new competitive trend.

It could mean substantial savings for the borrowing communities and a livlier investors market for the tax exempts.

For the third time in six weeks outsiders have won over insiders in bidding for large issues of bonds. And in the first two instances it was a young David taking on a veritable Goliath.

Considering all the schools that communities would like to build, all the public works that states would like to finance, the increased competition between the little guys and the big guys on Wall Street is attracting plenty of attention.

This week's example is the 100-million-dollar State of Illinois bonds for educational institutions and mental health and public welfare programs. It was won by a group of dealers and bankers that Wall Street dubs insurgents. The losing bidders were the traditional group led by Chicago banks that would normally be expected to walk away with the bidding. The last time that Illinois went to the bond market, for 85 million dollars in 1948, such a Chicago group won the issue on a single bid.

The insurgent group was headed by Glore, Forgan and Co. The annual net interest cost to Illinois will be 2.973 per cent. The Chicago bank group's bid would have cost the state 3.018984 per cent a year.

The two previous instances were more dramatic because they involved a relatively small municipal bond dealing firm of William S. Morris and Co., pitted against powerful syndicates headed by the nation's largest bank, the West Coast's Bank of America.

Aug. 16, Morris surprised bond market followers by taking a $100-million State of California school bond issue away from the giant, which traditionally had handled such offerings. Sept. 13, Morris repeated by winning the 100-million-dollar issue of State of California veterans' bonds.

Morris was helped in both instances by California regulations that require a good-faith deposit of only $100,000. In the Illinois bond issue the required deposit was two million dollars. Morris was one of the dealers in a syndicate headed by Glore, Forgan that won the Illinois issue.

If Morris had been acting under New York Stock Exchange rules, instead of those of California, his capital margin in both instances would have had to be three million dollars. Under National Association of Securities Dealers regulations the margin on that size issue would have had to be five million dollars.

But what really interests bond dealers is the rise of outside, and smaller, bidders for tax-exempt offerings.

Some dealers think that henceforth the groups may be smaller, with each participant taking a larger share of the bonds to pass on to the ultimate investor.

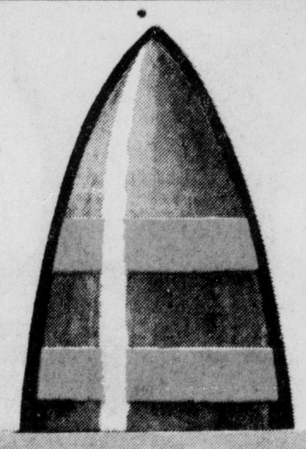
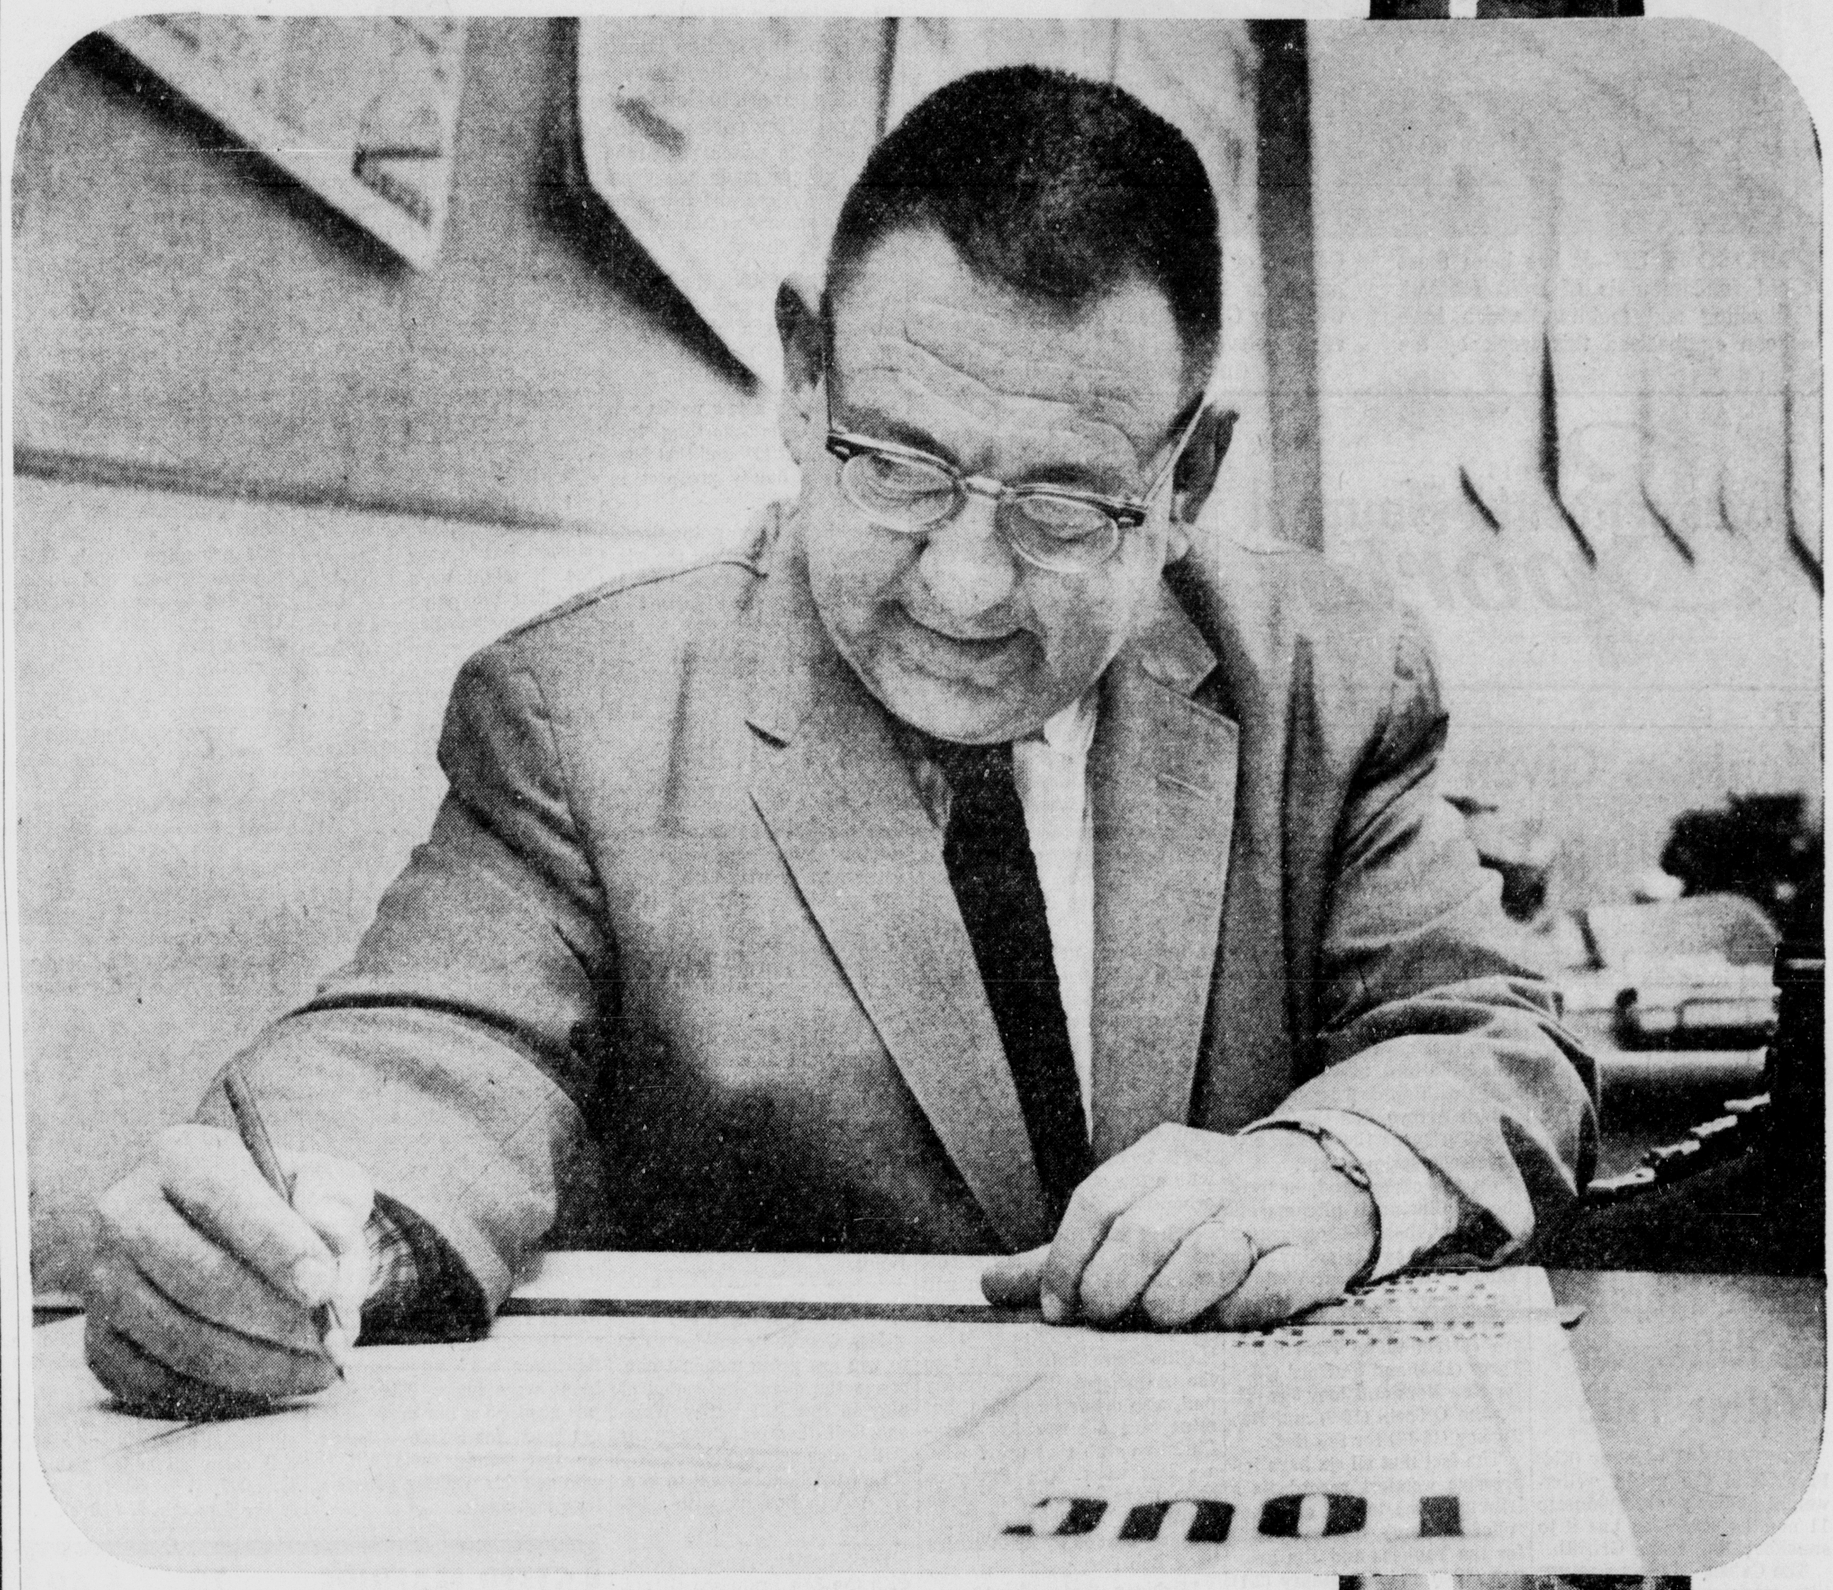
Our 8 spacemen bring the third dimension to your advertising





They're more than space salesmen, our 8 "spacemen." They're advertising and merchandising specialists who know that the biggest thing about advertising space . . . is what goes into it. That's why they offer you the third dimension—service.

And service means a lot more than selling you column inches. It means ideas from trained minds . . . from men who know merchandising and promotion, who know how to "say it" in sound, selling copy. Who know how to picture it in clean, attractive layouts. And how to produce your advertising with all the modern mechanical processes available at the I-J.

Our 8 "Advernauts" are chosen men. As professionals, they help make the big difference between "running an ad" and launching sales success. They're ready to help put your ads into orbit—anytime. To start the count-down, call GL 4-3020. Ask for the advertising department. It's the same as asking for action.

Independent-Journal ★ Serving all of Marin County

THIS WAS THE SCENE YESTERDAY when 300 press chairmen and presidents of Marin women's organizations attended the Round Table and tea conducted by the Women's Department of the Independent-Journal at Dominic's Harbour Restaurant in San Rafael. Purpose of the program was to present a discussion on the most effective means of getting news into the newspaper. Here, leading the discussion is Barbara Hosmer of the San Rafael staff of the women's department.

AT THE TEA table with the Nancy Hardy, right, who is in charge of the North Marin bureau for the women's section, is Mrs. Thomas S. Dlugos. Those attending yesterday's event were from all areas of Marin County.

DISTRIBUTING THE GUIDES preceding the program is Maybelle Speckmann, who is in charge of the Southern Marin bureau for women's news. Mrs. Speckmann covers the Mill Valley and Sausalito areas.

I-J Host To 300 Yesterday

REFRESHMENTS WERE popular following the discussion yesterday as the press chairmen and presidents of women's groups throughout the county gathered to chat informally among themselves and with the staff members.

Wishard Brown, assistant publisher and business manager of the Independent-Journal, welcomed about 300 press chairmen and presidents of Marin women's organizations at yesterday's Round Table and tea at Dominic's in San Rafael, conducted by the newspaper.

Jack Craemer, assistant publisher and managing editor of the Independent-Journal, explained the newspaper's women's section policies and the reasons for them. He presided for the session and conducted the question and answer period that followed.

The discussion led by the staff members of the Women's Department reviewed the growth of Marin and the changes of the newspaper to keep abreast of the times.

Florence Donnelly, women's editor, told the group the changes in the county. "Time was when the women's section of the newspaper and society news was like the appendix, something you could live without. Today it is a prime attraction for the readers . . . " she said. "Times are changing in Marin County and as the county grows the Independent-Journal is expanding and changing too. If we refuse to accept the idea of change we are lost. No person or organization can stand still. We must progress or go backwards. Today we are telling the plans for a livelier women's section and more complete coverage," she said.

Staff members Barbara Hosmer and Patricia Zinn presented the practical guide to getting news into the paper. They outlined newspaper fundamentals and explained the controlling purposes of the I-J Women's Section.

They said that the aim is to produce a bright, newsy section every day, with emphasis on prompt, fresh story and picture coverage of Marin's important women's events.

They said that the section's appeal has been broadened to include a wider range of subject matter with appeal to a larger group of readers. They pointed out that the section is now covering such matters as family features, fashions, health, diet and food, sewing, social activities, Marin's interesting people, new products and social change, as well as local events.

The emphasis has been placed on a feature approach to stories and on action, on-the-spot picture coverage, they said.

Press chairmen were told that the picture emphasis is on action rather than on plans for an event or advance pictures. On the spot photos of people doing things. The schedule is being reserved to cover major events. Major night or weekend events may be given one advance picture with story, if the schedule allows.

The afternoon concluded with a tea.

Lily Pons Won't Sing At The Met

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lily Pons, one of the best known Metropolitan opera stars, said last night she will not be singing at the Met this season, and blamed it on the opera's recent union troubles.

Her name was missing yesterday from the Met's annual roster of performers for the first time since 1931 after coming to this country from France.

At her home in Dallas, Tex., Miss Pons said, "Many artists will not return to the Met this year. I won't either because of union trouble."

She did not elaborate on her statement. However, her prass representative here said it was because of the off-again, on-again announcements about a season from the Met when it was locked in a contract dispute with the musicians Union.

Miss Pons, a 57-year-old coloratura, has sung only infrequently at the Met in recent seasons, but she still was carried on the roster.

She said she is not retiring, and is leaving Dallas this weekend for a concert in San Francisco.

Maybe It's Better If Daughter Keeps Her Past History Quiet

I need your advice. How should I answer this mother? Here is her letter:

"My girl," she writes, "was an unwed mother at 14. I feel I was to blame. I had always worked. I'd had little time for her. I actually told her it was all right to neck with boys. The baby resulted. It was adopted into a good home. My daughter never saw it.

"After that she and I went to a guidance counselor. We faced our problems together. We came to appreciate each other. My daughter's character changed. She became a fine, reliable, religious young lady. Our family moved to another state and started life anew.

"Now she is 19 and engaged. Her husband-to-be is a wonderful boy, but quite straightlaced. I'm afraid he might be vindictive if he knew of my girl's past. She shares my fear. She wants to marry without telling him of her baby. However, I believe honesty always is best. Will you help us? Should she tell?"

Thanks for writing. Your problem is not new, of course. Until recently I would have been certain of my answer. I'd have said that she should tell. Now I'm not sure. I've seen good marriages destroyed by such information. I've seen husbands try to forgive and not succeed. Later they persecuted their wives. Many marriage counselors now advise against confessing.

So I'm asking the folks who read this column what they think. Will you help me, friends? How would you answer her letter? Write to me. My address is this paper. I'll print a summary of your replies. What should this girl do? Thank you for helping.

Tired Of Being Just A Housewife Maybe Just Tired

By GAY PAULEY,
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tired of being "just a housewife?" Maybe you're just tired.

And no wonder, when you consider the number of jobs you hold. The average homemaker is a cook, nurse, chauffeur, cleaner, laundress, maid, shopper, interior decorator, seamstress, family treasurer, teacher and social secretary.

But don't despair when the list of daily duties seem infinite. Homework can be made easier, not only with the numerous labor-saving devices, but by careful budgeting of time.

Home economists in the test kitchens of a major food manufacturer-processor did a time-study experiment and came up with these tips from their experiences.

"Remember that the object of a time budget is to save the time without letting any necessary work suffer," said Miss Marylin Hudson, director of the company's six-member staff kitchen.

Suppose you take a quick look around the kitchen each day and then go out and spend an hour marketing. This habit adds up to about six and a half hours a week. You could, instead, take half an hour to make a complete list and market once a week, taking two hours to do the entire job. You have saved four hours, not counting the energy otherwise spent.

All household jobs have three parts, the experts said. They are the "get ready," the job itself and the "clean up" after. Often the get ready and cleanup take longer than the actual work. Try cutting time here.

For example, combine the cleanup of one job with the get ready of another. As you do the supper dishes, put on the table those needed for breakfast.

Eliminate work when possible. For instance, why peel tomatoes, eggplants or apples when your family may like them just as well with the skins on?

If you have a dishwasher, you are saving what some sources estimate is a staggering amount of work—it has been said that the average housewife does 135,000 dishes in the first five years of marriage, taking about 75 days to do it.

Doing dishes by hand, you still do not need to dry them. Modern detergents and hot water clean them and they dry just as well on a rack. You need not polish floors if you use a no-rubbing wax and simply spread it on, said the test kitchen experts.

Changing the locale of your work often can help. Squeeze citrus fruits at the sink and make any mopping up of spilled juice unncessary. Fill jars over the sink, too. Pour sugar or flour into containers with a newspaper beneath to collect any accidental spill.

Combining chores is another time saver. Mending can be done as you iron—just lay aside those garments in need of repair and mend before storing them.

Try to arrange your work so that your hands don't do all the chores. Use a foot-pedal garbage pail and a foot-pedal refrigerator if possible.

Have multi-purpose tools to save time and space.

When possible, try to have dishes which can be used for cooking, serving and storage, trays for carrying a number of things at once, and wheeled tables for toting several things simultaneously.

The test kitchen experts don't try to estimate how much time some of their tips will save you. But they guarantee some bonus.

Marin Women

Cecilia V. Wentz Bride Of Chester C. Klingel Jr.

Mrs. Cecilia V. Wentz and Chester C. Klingel Jr., both of Mill Valley, were married Saturday, Sept. 23, in a 3 o'clock ceremony at the Tamalpais Valley Community Church.

The single ring rites were performed by the Rev. Robert Roberts with relatives only attending.

When the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Catherine Jordan of Edinburgh, Scotland, recited her vows she was wearing a pink and silver brocade sheath and pink velvet hat.

Her matron of honor, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Sherwood Klingel of Alameda, was attired in a pink knit dress and matching hat. His brother, Sherwood Klingel, served the bridegroom as best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Chester C. Klingel of Alameda.

The new Mrs. Klingel was educated in Edinburgh, and her husband was graduated from high school in Alameda. He served five years in the U.S. Army and is an insurance adjuster with a San Francisco firm. His sister is Mrs. Arturo Sacco of New York City.

Following the ceremony the couple greeted friends at a reception held at their home on Marin Avenue in Mill Valley.

Future Developments In Textile World

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carpets which collect and store energy from the sun to heat homes. Clothing made from hair-thin steel threads. Clothes with perfume built in. Clothes with a coating to keep out the heat in summer. Paper clothes which can be discarded once soiled.

These are some of the developments of the future in the textile world, says Dr. Henry E. Millson, an award,winning scientist.

"Fabrics of the future will be changed in many ways from those of today to achieve style, durability, performance and especially comfort," said Millson.

Millson outlined fabric potentials in a paper prepared for his employers. He said that youth and old age would help influence a trend to super-functional. The elderly will be interested more in comfort than in style, he believes.

WARM AND LIGHT

For instance, an overcoat weighing several pounds as it now does, would be too heavy for the shoulders of an older person. "But with our present knowledge," said Millson, "a coat weighing one-third to one-half as much could be just as 'effective'.

"The young sophisticated mothers of the future no longer will fill clothes lines with laundered diapers, suits and other garments," the chemist predicted. Paper diapers would be sterile and inexpensive enough to discard.

"Paper fabrics will be so versatile they will be used for disposable hats, high-fashioned garments, raincoats, slacks, shirts, upholstery, as backing for carpets. Bed linens, sail boats, parachutes and blankets," he continued.

Millson believes that carpets of the future will double as heating units. These would be woven to include fine wires which will lead to a panel of energy cells located on a window sill or roof and be activated by sun and light rays.

A battery of cells would convert the light into electricity, which in turn would pass through the wires in the carpet or else be stored to provide heat at any rate desired. Such carpets also could be wired for plugging into a house current, operating like an electric blanket. And new finishes dirt-repellant.

Millson foresee some fabrics woven of stainless steel wire drawn so fine it is only half the thickness of human hair and as easily draped as some of the partly-metallic fabrics already in use.

OTHER PREDICTIONS

Development of a lightweight summer garment tht will keep the body cool by reflecting the various rays in sunlight before they can be converted into heat by the body.

Fabrics will be treated to prevent absorption of food, tobacco or other odors and a "subtle, perfumed or clean fresh odor" built into the finish.

SIMONETTA competes in the Italian fashion world with her designer husband, Fabiani. They often talk shop at home. She began her career knowing she had to work to earn the clothes she wanted. (UPI Telephoto)

Designer Simonetta Climbed Rapidly To Fashion Height

For a woman who once didn't know there was such a thing as a career girl, Simonetta of Italy has succeeded handsomely in the business and fashion world.

"Now," said the designer from Rome, "Every Italian woman wants to work. When I started designing right after the war, all I knew was that I wanted to own a lot of clothes and I would have to work to get them. I didn't know anything about career women."

Today, Simonetta's a leading name in the western fashion world. Her husband, Fabiani, is one of her top competitors, heading a couture establishment which his family started 50 years ago.

Mrs. Fabiani, or Simonetta as she is known in business, does sportswear collections for sale in the United States and abroad, produces a couture collection twice a year for private customers and for sale to retail stores or manufacturers for reproduction, does children's wear, and most recently has turned to shoe design.

Simonetta didn't wish to discuss the dollar volume her firm does annually. She smiled that "with taxes what they are, Italians are always going broke ... always on the edge of bankruptcy."

The designer is a dark-eyed and slim beauty who is one of her firm's best clothes horses. A dozen gold bracelets jangled on one arm as she talked of how she became a designer. She was born the Duchessa Simonetta Collonna id Cesaro. She opened business in 1946 in the Roman "Palazzo" which had been her home as a child.

DISH-TOWEL LINEN

Her first sportswear collection was fashioned from dish-towel linen, woven string and ribbons, from butlers' jackets, and gardeners' aprons, about the only materials available to her after World War II.

Today, individual clients include Doris Duke, Audrey Hepburn, Mrs. Spyros Skouras, wife of the motion picture tycoon, Lauren Bacall, and Mrs. Henry Ford II.

Simonetta recently signed with an American firm to design casual footwear. Her first collection features chisel-shaped toes (pointed toes are out, she said) and a new flat heel shaped like a miniature barrel.

Simonetta, during a business trip to the United States, talked of how she and her husband remain happily married while competing with each other in business.

"Certainly, we discuss shop at home," she said. "But my husband's whole approach to design is different from mine.

Japanese Theme For View Show

"Bridge to the Sun," the best-selling autobiography that reaches the screen in a stirring movie filmed in Japan and having its world premiere in San Francisco on Oct. 5, inspires the Japanese mood on Thursday at Fashions With a View from the Ondine.

The calm beauty of Japan will be reflected in the fashions by the San Francisco designer, Eleanor Green, who selected Japanese silks and brocades on her recent trip to the Orient and has created them into a new holiday collection that will be seen for the first time on Thursday.

Honored guest at the fashionable luncheon, where many will greet him for the first time, will be the new Consul General of Japan, T. Yamanaka and Mrs. Yamanaka whose country is the background for the true story of "Bridge to the Sun."

Joining them at the guest table will be the distinguished Japanese artist, teacher and lecturer, Takahiko Mikami and Mrs. Mikami wearing their authentic Japanese dress.

Promenading the Eleanor Green collection highlighting the Japanese fabrics will be Mrs. William Donohoe, Yvonne Bucki, Mrs. Robert Bernheim and Mrs. John Bellamy Jr.

Check Heating Unit To Nip Any Trouble Early

With cold weather coming on, public health experts advise you to have your heating units checked to minimize the danger of leaking carbon monoxide.

Carbon monoxide, which smothers from within by taking the place of needed oxygen in your blood is also produced by automobile engines or any fuel-burning device.

For safety always keep a car window open if your engine is running. Don't run your auto engine in the garage with the garage door closed. Have the exhaust system checked for leaks.

Other guests were Messrs. and Mesdames David LaRue, Thomas P. Scott, William A. Henderson, Neil L. Ball, Dismo Scatena, Mrs. George Boardman and Phil Gorreux.

MRS. VERNON SKEWES-COX of Ross is delighted that her youngest granddaughter, child of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Skewes-Cox of San Francisco, has been named Edith for her. The baby was born at Children's Hospital this week. She has two brothers, Peter, 6, and Tom, 4. The mother, the former Betsy Dunne, is the daughter of the Arthur B. Dunnes of San Francisco.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox is another granddaughter, Judith Malone, just returned from Europe. She went abroad with her parents, the Adrian Malones of San Anselmo, her two sisters, Sara and Gillian, and brother Nicholas in July. The Malones will remain in Italy until December. Gillian is attending school in Rome. Nick, with an English cousin and Martin Denicke, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Denicke of Ross, spent the summer bicycling through the British Isles. He returned to continue studies at Brooks School in North Andover, Mass., and Sara, who made her debut at last December's cotillion, has resumed her studies at Sarah Lawrence College. The family will be home for Christmas and after the holidays the Adrian Malones will move to Sheridan, Wyo., where he will establish an architectural office.

Judy, who made her debut three years ago, is a San Francisco career girl. She attended Katharine Branson School and Briar Cliff College in New York. She is sharing a San Francisco apartment with a Dominican graduate, Lorna Zander, daughter of the Jack Zanders of Ross.

MEETING AT the University Club in San Francisco last night for cocktails and dinner and going on to board the Harbor Queen for dancing were the Frank Baumgartens, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Peters, who have been staying at the Osborne White home in Kentfield, the Judson Levensalers and John Ziels.

Today Mary Baumgarten was in the Marin group composed of Mesdames June Shaw Hazeltine, Carol Nugent, John Reichmuth, George Blakesley and J. R. B. Ellis, at the Junior League's first fall meeting at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. They heard the lecture on Russia given by Dorian Crocker and her husband, George, brother of Herbert Crocker of San Rafael. Dorian, who has modeled in Junior League and other fashion shows, and her husband were in Europe for a long time and he has published a book on life under Soviet rule.

RETURNED FROM the north are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Merrill Jr. They drove their daughter, Jenefer, to Seattle, Wash. She is a freshman at the University of Washington where she has pledged Kappa Alpha Theta. The Merrills vacationed for some time on the Olympic Peninsula before returning home.

Baptist Fellowships Work On Reservation

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Mill Valley First Baptist Church left Friday night for Reno to visit the Colony Baptist Christian Center maintained on an Indian reservation.

Fifteen young people and five adults made the trip. While the girls helped with cleaning the community center building the boys worked on the grounds.

With money contributed by the young people of the church they bought film strips and presented them to the center.

The group ended the trip by going to Virginia City and Pyramid Lake before returning home Sunday evenings.

Mrs. David Friesen was in charge.

Today is Friday, Sept. 29, the 272nd day of the year with 93 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1789, the U.S. War Department established a regular Army with 700 men to serve three years.

In 1923, Great Britain, under a mandate from the League of Nations, began to govern Palestine.

In 1936, Political leaders of both parties were pointing out that the current campaign between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Kansas Gov. Alf Landon was the first political campaign to utilize the facilities of radio stations on a nationwide basis.

A thought for today: Irish dramatist Richard Sheridan said: "Talebearers are as bad as talemakers."

Simpson Decision To Retire Assures Real Schools Race

Definite announcement by Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, that he will not seek re-election next year will assure a wide open race for the job.

We are glad that Simpson made his position known so long in advance. He said four years ago that this would be his last term; he's served three plus more than any other state schools superintendent. But he had not reiterated his position recently and there had been reports he would seek another term.

Most significant part of his resignation speech at the annual staff meeting of the State Department of Education, was his determination to remain on his job to the end.

"Education can afford no lame ducks, and I shall not be one . . . There is much to do," he declared, "and we shall be at it right down to the last day."

This lays at rest a widely held view that Simpson would retire during his term so that Gov. Edmund G. Brown could appoint a successor who, running as the incumbent, would have an almost unbeatable head start on the rest of the field.

Now it will be that the voters for the first time since the post was made nonpartisan in the first years of this century, will be selecting a state superintendent without an incumbent seeking re-election.

As Superintendent Simpson put it:

"My intentions announced here today should enliven the race for this office. I believe this competition will benefit education because it should bring into the race persons capable of the dynamic leadership demanded by the times."

We also feel that education will benefit from a heated campaign for superintendent. We hope a number of high class candidates come forward. We hope they disect and examine our state educational policies from one end of California to the other.

We can select two in June, hear their educational positions in depth, and then select the one we like best in November.

Before they are through, we should know much more about our state educational system; the candidates should have learned how the citizens feel about their schools.

DON'T ANSWER THAT!

ADVANTAGES OF A COUNTRY DOCTOR

The old-fashioned country doctor has a happy lot, according to one 59-year-old veteran. After 30 years of practice in the farming community near the Ontario-Quebec border, this particular physician still prefers to remain a country doctor rather than accept attractive offers to practice in Montreal and other large cities.

What keeps him in a small community? The chief reason that he gives is that his work is far more personal and intimate that it would be in the city.

He often works 15 hours a day, and among other achievements has over the years delivered 3,500 babies. He finds many compensations in being a family counselor as well as medical adviser.

What ever your task in life may be, try to add a plus value to it by seeking ways to be of service to others and giving that service your own personal touch.

Keep close to people in need and you will find yourself keeping closer to God.

"I became all things to all men, that I might save all." (1 Corinthians 9:22)

Develop in me, O Jesus, a love of people for Your sake.

I-J Tops In Poor Sportsmanship

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re your winning bronze medal at the California State Fair for outstanding coverage of "The Affair Civic Center" last January. I'm sure to the majority who kept up with the facts of this incident you should have been nominated for the unenviable prize of poor sportsmanship: to wit: your unfriendly attitude and that of your cohorts, the civic center fans, in the manner in which you accepted the results of the June 1960 election.

Vera Schultz was a typical leader for you "poor losers" because not once, publicly or otherwise, did she congratulate her winning opponent, J. Walter Blair. When she finally spoke on radio KTIM, she hostilely reminded her listeners "Don't forget I'm still supervisor of the Third District until the first of the year."

In January when Supervisors Blair and Ludy took office, as did the re-elected supervisor, Bill Fusselman, who not only beat two opponents, but was the only member on the former board who believed in honest representative government, these three were immediately made targets for calumny by the I-J and the "poor losers club."

When Supervisor Fusselman desires to present the public with facts he has to pay for space in your newspaper, whereas the "poor losers" have the use of your front page for the asking.

Aug. 29 you show a cartoon, picturing the majority on our board of supervisors sitting askew on a nag and the heading reads "and galloped off in all directions." This is an insidious attempt to lead your readers to believe the majority are not in accord. In fulfilling their campaign promises they are most certainly united and will remain so on all major issues.

Now, who is the "ball bearing baddy" that tosses the brickbats in the I-J? July 22: "Brickbats to those who think criticism of the civic center stop-work and the administrator abolition was the work of a tiny group of trouble makers." Dear Editor and gentle people, this little I-J missile really misfired because the "baddy" who said this spoke the truth. The civic center fans are certainly a minority group . . .

Sept. 2 you gave yourselves, I-J, a full page ad and three of your subjects telling your readers how free your press is, had Supervisor Blair as your target.

Poor pitiable I-J and your poor loser followers: It appears "your minds are made up and you do not want to be bothered with the facts."

But one fact is for sure: if Supervisor Blair wasn't so doggone honest he would not be up against a recall.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

People Either Definitely Want Or Do Not Want Their Names In Print

In the eyes of newspapermen, people fall into two classes: those who want their names in print and those who do not.

Numerically, the two groups are about equally divided.

Almost without exception, those charged with wife-beating, drunken driving, fictitious check writing, manufacturing homemade booze or burglarizing poor boxes would prefer not to be mentioned.

On the other hand, reporters are plagued daily by flagpole sitters, book burners, baton twirlers, political candidates and trainers of dancing mice, any of whom would commit hari-kari at high noon on the courthouse steps in return for a mention in the daily blatts.

VETERINARIANS, like their professional brethren who heal human beings, are opposed, almost to the point of violence, to having their names mentioned in stories in connection with their work.

It seems they operate under a code of ethics which forbids members of the clan to thus "advertise," although there is no recorded instance of a dog doctor, surgeon, psychiatrist, chiropractor or bunion trimmer who has objected to a news story which mentions they were seen at a tea party at the summer estate of Mrs. Snootybucks of Kent Rosslands.

SUFFERING GRIEVOUS conflict over news stories are small town police chiefs, the bane of every editor from coast to coast. Lively accounts of robbery, rape and roistering tend to make their town appear as a fun house for hoods, a situation frowned upon by city councilmen when the annual question of pay raises for the cops comes before them.

But, then again, if crime news is overlooked, how is the reading public to know of the heroism of Officer Trueblue Strongheart who, at great risk to life and limb (above and beyond the call of duty) captured the masked grandma?

Morticians and undertakers outdo even supermarket owners and real estate brokers when it comes to getting their name in type. "Please mention that arrangements were made by Smiling Simpson, your friendly funeral director," they request in muted tones, after recounting the surviving loved ones.

Persons truly dedicated to getting their names in print rarely rely on their own devices. They hire a public relations expert, a peculiar breed of individual who spends most of his working hours locked in combat with city editors.

HE OPERATES on the proven theory of Nathan Bedford Forrest: "Get there fustest with the mostest." The mostest being reams of practically unintelligible copy recounting as how his client, the Twinkle Toes Dance Emporium, will make your child the most sought after blossom in Miss Snodgrass' third grade social set.

The editor, groaning, promptly throws the opus in the wastebasket, along with the day's intake of comparable illiteracy from manufacturers of automobiles, dog biscuits, toupees and courses in home pedicure.

The publicity man, affectionately known around newsrooms as a "flack," immediately sends in a carbon copy, without prejudice.

The editor usually gives in on the third try.

THE ITEM THEN appears, one paragraph in length, after having been translated into English by a journalism school graduate breaking in on the obituary beat.

The happy client, unbelievably, believes what has been written about him and usually gives the flack a handsome raise.

The cub reporter is often fired for taking too much time on such a simple story.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Think You Can Fool The Wife? Well, You're Only Fooling Self

NEW YORK (AP) — Can you fool your wife about anything?

If you can, you must be a genius.

For the fine old masculine art of wife-fooling is rapidly becoming a vanished skill. Science, invention, law and government have conspired to make it all but impossible.

There was a time when the man of the house was something of a mystery to his household, and the real master of his manor.

That was largely because he was armored by financial secrecy. How much he was paid was a secret between him and his boss, and many a strong-minded husband chose not to share that secret with his wife and children.

"We can't afford it!" he could tell them when they tried to raid his treasury for some purchase he thought unnecessary. And his word was law, for no one else in the family knew the real size of his bankroll.

In that golden male past the only way a wife could estimate the old boy's worth was to go through his pockets after he fell asleep on pay night. Even then, if he had the common sense to stash some of his cash in his shoe, she thought him poorer than he was.

In those days a husband could use his stashed cash to bet on the ponies, invest in poker, handle his tab at the saloon or play the stock market—and his wife was none the wiser.

But today?

All is changed. The joint bank account and the joint income tax return have made it impossible for a husband to fool the little woman about how much he earns or what he does with his money. She knows where every penny comes from—and where it goes.

He can't even earn a few dollars on an outside job and squirrel it away for a bit of wholesome private fun, or to mail to his dear old mother. Not, anyway without reporting it to Uncle Sam. And when he reports it to Uncle Sam he reports it to his wife, too. For she studies that joint income tax before she signs it.

It is practically impossible now to fool wives in other matters.

A few examples:

AN OLDER husband once could marry a younger woman and lie to her about his age. Not ony more. His driver's license, his passport, his insurance policy, make his age about as secret from her as the date on her kitchen calendar.

Once a husband could stay out late with the boys; creep silently on stockinged feet up the stairs, and the next morning assure his wife he got home three hours earlier than he did.

BUT NOT since wives started putting chain latches on the front door. For every burglar surprised by a chain latch, a thousand husbands have been caught flat-footed trying to sneak home late.

A modern husband who tries to fool his wife only kids himself, and maybe makes laughter for the neighbors.

Now Democrats Face Possible Bitter Fight For Governor's Seat

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — What has been considered a "shoo-in" for Gov. Edmund G. Brown as the only Democratic candidate on the June primary ballot, as the incumbent governor, appeared to be less likely today as a result of a press conference held by Robert I. McCarthy, former director of motor vehicles, who broke with Brown recently.

McCarthy said he is being urged to run for governor and may have a definite announcement after the first of the year. He would, of course, be on the Democratic ticket and with his knowledge of state government and the inside of the Brown administration, as well as his experience as state senator from San Francisco, could furnish some solid opposition to Governor Brown.

HE WOULD NOT run, he said, as a party machine man. He would expect no help from the Democratic machine, he said, but would be content to allow the 4,295,330 registered Democrats (probably more now) to make a free choice for their candidate next June.

McCarthy pointed out that a "lot of Democrats are disgusted with the Brown administration's Alice in Wonderland approach to state problems" and are set to demand a change in the corner office.

Brown, he says, is indecisive, doesn't want to make hard decisions, and his actions are marked by confusion.

"ONCE HE lost his brain," McCarthy said, "who was Fred Dutton, things went from bad to worse." Dutton was Governor Brown's former executive secretary, who accepted federal appointment under President Kennedy.

Once again, McCarthy criticized Brown's re-organization program. He said it was "bureaucratic nonsense" to put four $25,000-a-year top flight directors in office, and "save" their salaries out of departmental salary savings.

He pointed out there would be, under the Brown re-organization plan, only seven minor commissions eliminated, none of which were included in the state budget anyhow!

RE-ORGANIZATION of state government, the potential candidate declared, is long over-due, and in fact has not been attempted in 50 years except under the administration of the late Gov. C. C. Young, who consolidated quite a few boards and commissions into 11 state departments, which now have grown to 23, plus more than 300 additional boards and commissions.

Apparently, McCarthy at the moment is engaged in sending out a "trial balloon," to determine what the sentiment among the down-to-earth Democrats would be to his candidacy. There was a sure indication that if the sentiment is at all favorable, he will jump on the ticket against Governor Brown.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

President Gained Some Support Before U.N., But Is It Enough?

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —On the three issues of Berlin, disarmament, and the election of an interim secretary general to fill the void left by Dag Hammarskjold, the initiative is with the United States in this 16th General Assembly.

President Kennedy's speech gained some support for the American appeal that an "outstanding civil servant" be promptly chosen by the Assembly if a Soviet veto blocks the Security Council.

The strength of the President's appeal was its calmness, its candor, and its concreteness.

HE UNFOLDED to the U. N., not just general principles, but a specific program by which "general and complete disarmament" can be brought to reality if the Soviet Union is interested—the most comprehensive and boldest plan for progressive, total disarmament any nation has advanced.

He made it clear that the U. N. will defend by all necessary means Western rights in Berlin but that we are prepared to negotiate a peaceful solution within these rights.

TO THE APPLAUSE of a diplomatic audience not given to applause—an audience which listened to his closely reasoned address with rapt attention—he pledged that the United States will "neither commit nor provoke aggression" and implicitly asked if Nikita Khrushchev would do the same.

In the wake of Kennedy's impressive performance, which compares with President Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" address in 1954, there is a possibility—but not a very promising one—that the neutralist and newly independent nations will join in sufficient number to rescue the United Nations both from the impotence caused by Hammarskjold's tragic accident and from the directionless confusion which the Soviets are so eager to impose.

The President vigorously and, I think, persuasively countered the renewed Soviet proposal that the Secretary General should either be replaced by a "troika" committee of three, any one of whom could block the other two, or that a rotating panel of subordinates should temporarily take his place, each with a veto.

This, in sum, is the case which Kennedy put before the smaller powers, aware that they alone can provide the necessary two-thirds vote to save the U. N. either from headless immobility or three-headed confusion.

A suspicious salesman ordered a steak dinner in a newly opened restaurant, but after sampling the main course, he summoned the proprietor.

"I've been around a lot," he declared, "and I'd give odds this precious steak of yours is horse meat."

"That's an outrageous accusation," protested the proprietor, "and what's more I'll bet you $50 you're wrong."

"Not me," shuddered the salesman. "I never won a bet on a horse in my life!"

John Boggs, eighth grade elementary school student in Manhattan, is already a keen judge of cause and effect. Here's his composition, complete and unabridged, on the subject of Benjamin Franklin: "Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston in 1706, and moved to Philadelphia in 1723, where he began 'Poor Richard's Almanack.' Then he got married and discovered electricity."

Race Not Always To Swift, Or Tricks To Good Player

The race is not always to the swift, nor the tricks to the good player. Sometimes a player commits an abomination and winds up better off than the sober citizen who follows all the rules.

West opened the king of clubs, and South won with the ace.

That is, South thought for a moment that he had won with the ace of clubs. Then East growled "Where are you going with my trick?"

South looked down and saw East's five of spades for the first time.

"I've had dumb partners all night," North remarked with some feeling, "but now I've got a blind one."

South could thing of no excuse, so silently surrendered the first trick to East and silently won the heart return. Then he drew trumps, cashed the other top heart and the ace of diamonds, and finally led the three of clubs.

ALL SILENT: Suddenly all of the other players became as silent as South. They saw that South's foolish play at the first trick was going to bear strange fruit.

West had to win a club trick and had nothing but clubs left in his hand. When he led another club, declarer discarded a diamond from dummy and the losing heart from his hand. This gave the defenders their third trick.

West had to lead another club, whereupon South discarded dummy's last diamond and ruffed in his own hand. He could now ruff both losing diamonds in dummy, after which the rest of the tricks were his.

"Try making the hand without throwing the ace of clubs away," South defied his partner.

All the same, its a good idea to keep your eyes open while you're playing bridge. Miracle hands are few and far between.

Answer: Bid one spade. You have the high-card structure for a forcing two-bid, but you are about one trick short. This hand will win 7 or 8 tricks, and you need about 8 or 9 tricks for a force to game.

THE MILL CREEK
"The Most Magnificent Address In Marin"
My family is raised and I've sold my home—Now I want trouble-free living and move into an apartment. But it must be very large and gorgeous. A 1-bedroom (900 sq. ft.) or 2-bedroom (1,200 sq. ft.). We want Country-Park-like setting with tall beautiful redwood trees, a live creek meandering through the property. Must be level, and walking distance to the quaint downtown shopping of Mill Valley . . . OH DEAR! We have just wished ourselves into the MILL CREEK. You will too if you see this unbelievable setting. From $145. Adults. Come feast your eyes this weekend — 191 Throckmorton, Mill Valley.

"My resignation, Chief. I have an offer to do the weather on television at five times my present salary."

Drive-In Theater To Be Started

Work on a 1,000-car drive-in theater north of San Rafael is to start next Tuesday as result of award of a grading contract yesterday by Blumenfeld Theaters to A. B. Matheson of Menlo Park.

Matheson was low bidder with a figure of $37,000.

The theater chain operates seven Marin County theaters including San Rafael's drive-in which has capacity of 600 cars. The new theater will be on the Smith Ranch east of Highway 101, opposite the Lucas Valley Road intersection.

Special Troops Leader Named

Col. Preston Steele of Corte Madera has assumed command of the Sixth Army Special Troops at the Presidio in San Francisco, returning to the Bay Area after an absence of 26 years, the Sixth Army said today.

Steele, a West Point graduate, commanded the 497th antiaircraft Artillery Battalion on Guadalcanal in 1943 and was executive officer of the 68th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade in the Philippines until 1945.

He succeeds Col. Arthur C. Peterson at the Presidio post. He and his wife Terri and their nine-month-old daughter Terri E. live at 42 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera. Their son, Ensign Robert Steele is stationed at Norfolk Naval Base, Norfolk, Va.

Travel By Auto Is $29 Per Day

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The average American couple vacationing by automobile during the summer spent approximately $29 per day—with no extras.

This is the estimate of the California State Automobile Assn., based on 300 miles per day in a car that averages 15 miles per gallon of gasoline.

The budget breaks down this way: $10.50 for meals and snacks, $9.50 for lodging, $7 for gas and oil, and $2 for tips and miscellaneous.

This doesn't take into consideration additional amounts for souvenirs, amusements, recreation, admissions to places of interest and retail purchases.

Novato Drama Group Good In 'Teahouse'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

The Drama Section of Novato Community Club has undertaken the difficult production of "Teahouse Of The August Moon," and come out with flying colors.

In their opening two performances last weekend, they rolicked the audience with a well-timed, fast-moving production. It will be repeated tonight and tomorrow in the Novato Community Clubhouse starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Mike Lopez, as the Okinawan translator Sakini, ranked well with professionals we have seen in the part. His performance reflected careful study of the character, evidenced by the fact he had a friend of Japanese ancestry record his lines so that he could study and imitate intonations, inflections and pronunciations.

GEISHA GIRL

We had to look several times to decide whether Patricia Carpenter, as the geisha girl, Lotus Blossom, hadn't been selected because she was Oriental. Not only was her makeup superb, but her every motion and movement was in character. She turned out to be a College of Marin student who knew nothing about Okinawa. She didn't have a line to say in English in the entire play.

George Wahl, as the affable, disconnected Captain Fisby, did an outstanding job, putting a different characterization to the part than we have seen before.

Joe Jacob, as Colonel Purdy, was nervous and slow to start, but he warmed up to the part.

FINE JOB

We're not going to try to run down each one of the large supporting cast. They did a fine job. We do want to hit one or two particular spots which impressed us particularly.

Beverly Wahl as the old woman was a delight high atop the loaded jeep. Sam Hagler as Mr. Hokaida, the chief of police, took such a nasty fall in his wrestling match with Vince McGovern as Mr. Seiko that we were happy to see him come out for his curtain call. The three dancers, unidentified on the program, were of professional quality.

Director Scott Wright and his producer wife, Lois, deserve credit for putting together a good show. Wright designed the set and, with the aid of Robert Kitchak's art work, produced a beautiful and believable teahouse on the difficult clubhouse stage.

We don't want to forget makeup crew, Sallie Peshaw and Lois Wright (according to the program Mrs. Wright did practically everything). Some of the players were works of art, even bit parts, particularly the male Okinawans. Their work looked as though they had enjoyed doing it.

Tea, fortune and other cookies were served by "geisha girls" between the second and third acts. If the third act slowed down a little it was probably just as well because too much laughing isn't good for a full stomach of seasame seed cookies.

Ceremony Is Planned For Nursery School

Completion of nursery school facilities on the property of the Methodist Church in Mill Valley, to be used by the Tamalpais Nursery School on weekdays and the church school on Sundays, will be marked by ceremonies Sunday, at 12:30 p.m.

Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber will participate on behalf of the community.

After the ceremony the building and playground will be open for public inspection until 4 p.m.

The cooperative venture of the two non-profit corporations is the result of several years of negotiations between Fred Sumner, representing the church, and Mrs. Robert Bastian, executive director of the school.

The model plant was designed especially for nursery and kindergarten children by Michael Wornum, Mill Valley architect and city councilman. The Methodist Church has built the school and the Tamalpais Nursery School has leased the facilities for 38 years.

Rev. G. Russell Oaks, Pastor, will consecrate the building for the welfare of Mill Valley children. Mrs. Joseph Bare, chairman of the school board of trustees, will explain the purpose and function of the non-denominational nursery school, which was founded by a committee of Mill Valley parents six years ago. It has been operating in limited quarters at the First Baptist Church.

On Monday, the facilities will be initiated by 35 children, 3 and 4 years old, and another group of the same number and age will start on Tuesday. The pre-kindergarten class of nearly 5-year-olds meets in the afternoons. There are five teachers and Mrs. Bastian on the school staff.

The church school will transfer its classes to the new building on Oct. 8, with a staff of six teachers.

NO INCIDENTS

Atlanta Sets Aside Eatery Segregation

ATLANTA (UPI) — This deep south city yesterday set aside segregation in its principal downtown eating places with the same calm that marked the integration of four previous all-white high schools here earlier this fall.

The integration was carried out by pre-arranged plan at 13 restaurants and lunch counters shortly after 2 p.m. Most of the lunch hour traffic had cleared through the eating places by that hour.

What was regarded as the big test came at Rich's Department Store in its Magnolia Room, one of the popular eating places in the downtown area.

Four Negro college girls arrived at the store under the watchful eye of plainclothesmen and took an elevator to the sixth floor.

They leisurely walked the 30 feet from the elevator to the entrance of the Magnolia Room, which seats several hundred, and were greeted at the door by a hostess.

The students were quickly shown to seats and scarcely attracted any attention among the 50 persons then present.

Shortly after the students arrived at Rich's seven well-dressed Negro adults arrived and were shown to another table. Among this group was Q. V. Williamson, a Negro who was defeated last week in a race for the Atlanta board of aldermen.

Negroes made similar appearances at Davison's Department Store and 11 other smaller department, variety and drug stores.

In each instance, the integration was without incident.

No general advance notice was given of the restaurant integration today, but personnel in the affected establishments were told before the Negroes arrived.

Details of the integration plan were worked out in advance by merchants and Negro leaders who started work on the problem at the height of the sit-in demonstrations that began last fall and continued until spring.

Ban Called For On Rock'n'Roll

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Police Chief Ray Blackmore called for a city ban on rock-'n-roll dances at the civic auditorium.

Blackmore said such dances are troublesome to the police department. He was backed by City Manager A. P. Hamann who said the 3,000 to 3,500 persons who attended the affairs create disturbances when they "fan out" to bars and eating places afterwards.

"Their excitement and enthusiasm know no bounds," Hamann said.

Students Lose Case

POULTNEY, Vt. (UPI)—Four Dartmouth College students were fined $22 apiece because they all were riding in the front seat of a car. It did them no good to plead that they "had to work under tension and anxiety during the week and were entitled" to relax on weekends.

Episcopal Unit Backs Birth Control Proposal

DETROIT (UPI) — A historic milestone was crossed by the Protestant Episcopal Church yesterday when its national convention went on record favoring the government sharing birth control information with other nations "where officially sought."

The action of the church's Bicameral Legislative Chambers at its 60th national convention here reaffirmed the principles of the 1958 Lambeth Conference. However, that conference was held after the 1958 national convention at Miami Beach, Fla.

Dean Julian Bartlett, of San Francisco's Grace Cathedral, said the acceptance by the convention of the Lambeth statement on birth control was a "significent step" in the history of the church.

He said the church now recognizes birth control as "morally acceptable." Lambeth pronouncements represent the teachings of the church, Dean Bartlett said.

The Lambeth statement said:

"It is recognized that there are many lands today where population is increasing so fast that the survival of young and old is threatened and population control has become a necessity. . . . We believe that methods of (birth) control which are medically endorsed and morally acceptable may help the people of these lands so to plan family life that children may be born without a likelihood of starvation, and we approve the rendering by our government of assistance to this end where officially sought."

Brown Praises State Economy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said that California economy will receive a "one billion dollar shot in the arm" from defense contracts.

Brown made the statement at the ground - breaking ceremonies for a multi-million dollar defense plant, Space-General Corporation that the governor says will help deliver such a boost.

The increased flow of defense funds into the state would create 175,000 new jobs, according to Brown.

He cited the California system of higher education as the reason that "California is the first choice of industrials throughout the nation."

NEW DISPLAY ROOM AT McPHAILS

McPhail's, Inc., has opened a new 800-square-foot section to display hi-fi, stereo and television equipment at its appliance store, 917 C Street, San Rafael. The recently completed sales and service area features acoustical tile ceilings and thickly carpeted floors for improved sound reproduction. Albert Illingworth, sales manager of the appliance division, is shown here demonstrating one of the new models to Mrs. Luella Lopez of Kentfield.

12-Story Earth-Fill Dam Gets Finishing Touches

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — A milestone in a 12-story high earth-fill dam on the Klamath River in Northern California was reached today with final loads of earth and rock dumped on top of the structure.

John Boyle, vice president of Pacific Power and Light Co. and chief engineer for the 7.5-million-dollar Iron Gate Development, said the dam is 173 feet high. It is 685 feet wide across the canyon, more than 1,000 feet thick at its base and narrows to a crest about 40 feet thick.

Also to be finishd today was the 700-foot long, 12-foot diameter steel tube through which water will flow from the reservoir to the 18,000-kilowatt powerhouse.

The dam is located upstream from Yreka.

Boyle said the steel tube and valves for flow control and diversion at the powerhouse would permit regulation of the downstream levels of the Klamath. He explained primary purpose for Iron Gate Dam was to level out the river below Pacific Power's six other plants on the upper river.

California fish biologists have explained that regulation of the Klamath flow to prescribed levels during certain seasons and elimination of rapid fluctuations will improve the downstream habitat for fishlife, particularly salmon and steelhead.

The powerhouse is slated for operation in December.

Major phases of work still to be completed are installation of turbine and generator units, and the deep spillway cut in the solid rock of the west wall. The overflow spillway would carry high water in event of flooding.

Pharmacy Board Begins Crackdown On Drug Shipping

SAN FRANCISOC (AP)— The State Board of Pharmacy has started a crackdown on the shipping of drugs into California to unauthorized purchasers.

Floyd M. Heffron, executive secretary, said 100 known shippers of drugs have been notified they must have state licenses to send drugs into California.

About 50 have complied and "we are now starting in on step No. 2 leading to injunctions prohibiting their operations in this state," he said.

Heffron said the federal government estimates there are 1,300 firms filling mail order prescriptions for drugs. He said the volume in California runs to thousands of dollars a month.
